Chinese Junk at Oyster Point

Peace, Piety and Prosperity came to South San Francisco Saturday, in the form of a sea-going Chinese junk.

Or it may be Peace, Piety and Profit — possibly a more literal translation of the junk's Chinese name, Sung Shioh Li, according to Max Lembke, a San Francisco insurance man and one of the junk's co-owners.

His partners in the ownership of the 80-foot junk are Harry Dring of South San Francisco, supervisor of the San Francisco Maritime State Historic Park at the foot of Hyde Street in San Francisco, and Henry Rusk, well-known San Francisco naval architect who is now retired.

The Sung Shioh Li eased into its new berth at South San Francisco's city-owned Oyster Point Marina Saturday afternoon, to take its place as the largest craft in the harbor.

On hand to welcome her were

Don Fagundes, Harbor Superintendent, Al Bolander of the Oyster Point Yacht Club, and a crowd of 30 to 40 spectators.

The junk's 4½-hour voyage to South San Francisco began Saturday morning in Sausalito — but her story begins around 1890, when she was built in the village of Mahwei, near Foochow in China.

"As near as I can make out," said Rusk, "she was built for smugglers. She had all sorts of little hidey holes when we first started opening her up."

Opium and exotic woods were likely cargoes, he added.

Details of the junk's smuggling days in Chinese waters are all but unknown, Rusk said, but those days ended in 1932, when she was captured by Chinese customs agents, sold by an admiralty court, and registered for the first time.

Her new owners probably used her for fishing, Rusk went on, and for carrying more prosaic cargoes such as rice.

In 1955, the Sung Shioh Li made the voyage from Formosa to San Francisco, covering the 5,600 miles in a remarkable 59 days. Her crew consisted of six young men — five Formosans and one American, a U.S. Consular official on leave.

Upon their arrival, the crew turned to San Francisco's Chinese Beneficial Association — the historic "Six Companies" — for assistance, and the association found itself in possession of a 43-ton floating white elephant.

DISTRICT SHIFTS EDUCATORS

Ribera Named Principal For Jefferson High School

Dr. Watt Is New Oceana High Chief

Other Posts Also Filled

Ernest Ribera, 44, principal of Pacifica's Oceana High School in the Jefferson High School District, Monday was named Jefferson High School principal in Daly City.

In transferring Ribera from Oceana to replace the late John Mongon, the district's trustees named 33-year-old Dr. Robert Watt, presently assistant principal for administration and instruction who has been in the Jefferson district since 1955, to succeed Ribera at Oceana.

Three other unrelated appointments also were announced by the board.

Louis Martin, 42, will become principal of the proposed Serramonte School and more immediately director of district special services to organize that program until the Serramonte plant is ready. He presently is principal of the district's adult and summer school program, a job he has held since 1962.

Floyd Gonnella, 32, assistant principal for administration at Terra Nova High School, will head the independent study center — the district's continuation school — when it is launched in the fall.

Bob Nissen, who heads the Westmoor High School Fine Arts Department, and is president of the Jefferson District Federation of Teachers, was appointed to work with San Francisco State College and its master teacher program.

Nissen will serve on the college staff as an associate professor, and will teach and supervise student teachers for one (Please See Page 16, Column 1)

The Times Will Have All Results

The San Mateo Times-Post staff has gathered the latest results of the many races featured on the longest county ballot in history in yesterday's primary election throughout the state.

Although the results were not available at Post deadline, the complete picture of the political scene — the results of the hot contests on county, state and federal election fronts — will be detailed in the Times, available at newsstands countywide today.

S.S.F. Probes High School Locker Blast

South San Francisco police and fire investigators are probing a fire bomb which exploded Monday in a locker at South San Francisco High School.

Sheldon Winston, boys' vice principal, said he was standing nearby when he saw flames shoot out of the locker.

He grabbed an extinguisher and put out the blaze.

Officers said someone had apparently filled a pint jar with gasoline, put it into the locker, stuffed newspapers around it, then tossed in a match.

Damage was confined to the locker and the immediate area. Winston said a group of girls was standing nearby, but no one was hurt.

He said he had no chance in the excitement to observe anyone who might have been responsible.

Police said they received a call during the school's lunch break — almost three hours after the incident — in which a young male reported there was a bomb at the school.

Officers said they were uncertain whether the call was from the young arsonist, or was a separate prank.

Bruno Steel Worker Hurt In Plunge

A San Bruno steel worker was injured Monday afternoon in a fall from the side of a building under construction in South San Francisco.

Paul M. Ruano, 147 San Benito Avenue, underwent surgery last night for a fractured back. Nurses at Peninsula Hospital said this morning that he is in satisfactory condition in the hospital's intensive care unit.

Fellow workman at the project at 179 Starlite Street said they did not see Ruano fall. He had been working with a safety belt on the side of the building, one co-worker said. A ladder was standing against the building near the spot Ruano landed.

Steps Taken To Beautify Pacifica

May Ask For Federal Cash

The Pacifica City Council last week took the first step toward obtaining a federal grant of nearly $60,000 for urban beautification.

In addition, councilmen approved the hiring of seven temporary employees to expedite the current year's beautification program, for which a federal grant of $22,865 has already been requested.

"If the city is to actually receive the federal grant and bring Pacifica into the continuing grant program on a favorable priority basis, we must now proceed with the 1965-66 program," explained Karl Baldwin, city manager.

The program must be "well underway by June 30 and complete within four to six weeks thereafter," he said, to qualify for the federal funds already requested — funds he said the government has told him are "virtually assured."

"We do not have such approval actually in hand," Baldwin pointed out. "However, in view of the substantial assistance at stake it would appear reasonable to proceed."

"It is also highly desirable that we make application now for a beautification grant for the 1966-67 fiscal year," Baldwin told the council, saying that the city's participation in the 1965-66 program gives it a decided edge next year.

Baldwin presented the council with financial figures indicating the value of the 1965-66 federal funds to Pacifica.

"The city would spend $24,260 (Please See Page 16, Column 1)

With the absence of two candidates for county office and another trustee, last Monday's scheduled meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School District board was continued to 8 p.m. next Monday for lack of a quorum.

Only Trustees George Perry and Peter Galiano showed up.

Thomas F. Noonan, who sought the county assessor's position in yesterday's primary election, and Joseph Lewkowicz, S.F., a candidate for county treasurer, were thought to be involved in last-ditch political campaigning, while Trustee O. Wayne Douglas was out of town.

The other trustees, administrative personnel and a roomful of citizens with business or having a pure interest in the proceedings waited until 8:30 for Superintendent Frank Greenwood to announce the postponement.

One more trustee was needed to make the quorum

Lawmen Raid 2 Narcotics 'Factories' In Daly City

DEVIL'S SLIDE TRAGEDY—The death of 23-year-old Tanya Michele Wojcik, 252 Chatanoga Street, San Francisco, when her auto plunged over a cliff at Devil's Slide on the San Mateo County coastside, still is being probed by corner's deputies, who are attempting to determine whether or not the young woman's fate was an accident or suicide. Boys on Cabrillo Highway at about noon last Friday said they saw her southbound car jump an earth mound at the top of the cliff and go over. (Post Photo)

Rezoning Is Approved In Pacifica

Pacifica's planning commission Monday approved the rezoning of five parcels of land at Pedro Beach to a commercial recreation district.

The new zoning will allow the land to be used for privately operated recreation facilities such as ball parks, golf driving ranges, bowling, and such.

Part of the land, owned by Lawrence Wicker and Lou Bianco, is now occupied by two real estate offices.

In another action, the commission approved an application by W. F. Peterson for a use permit for a recreation center on Oceana Boulevard south of Milagra Drive, on the conditions that landscaping and parking be provided, and fire department requirements be met.

Don Wright's appeal of a planning staff decision to deny permission for a sign at the Surf Lounge was turned down. Wright and the city planners had disagreed over where the actual roof line of his establishment was. Planners contended that the requested sign would not fall within regulations. The commission agreed.

The commission also approved a tentative subdivision map for new construction in Park Pacifica, extended a construction variance for a new home requested by Patrick Haggerty in Linda Mar, and renewed a Rotary Club use permit for "Welcome to Pacifica" signs.

The 'Little Red Bus' Turns Another Corner in Pacifica

Like The Little Engine That Could, Pacifica's "Little Red Bus" chugged one step closer to its goal last night.

The city council promised that it will make a final decision next week on proposals to support full-time intra-city service by purchasing advertising on the two buses operated by John Cushing.

Cushing and dozens of Pacifica residents have asked the city to help financially, until the service gains a financial foothold all over Pacifica.

Little Red Buses presently serve Linda Mar full-time, and run in the city's northern areas only in the morning.

A direct city subsidy to Cushing is illegal, according to City

Attorney Conrad Reisch. But Pacifica could purchase ads.

Mayor Harland Minshew asked the chamber of commerce to prepare a program under which the city and its three shopping districts would buy a total of $400 in advertising each month, and report at next week's meeting.

The shopping centers have already indicated they will participate.

A majority of city councilmen have also expressed their favor. City Manager Karl Baldwin said the new city-wide service would cost about $300 a month. With $400 in advertising support, he declared, "the bus company would realize a net gain in revenue and would be placed in a position to build added passenger fares on a sound basis."

Hunt for Pipe Fails at Dump
Some 40 Santa Clara County deputy sheriffs and reserve officers spent several hours Saturday searching the dumps in Brisbane for an 18-inch length of pipe, allegedly used in the Memorial Day murders of a Millbrae priest and a Santa Clara warehouseman in San Jose.

The search through shoulder-high grass and wind-blown trash and paper proved futile.

UNRELATED CASES

Drugs Found In House and Auto

An elaborate drug manufacturing laboratory capable of producing up to a pound an hour of methedrene and desozyn, at 66 Parkview Drive, was raided by

Daly City police and the occupant of the private home, Alex James Palmer, 24, arrested. The suspect, an electronics technician, was booked on charges of possessing explosives material in his home; transport, sale and manufacture of dangerous drugs, and possession of drugs without a prescription.

Police Lt. Richard Sims said Palmer's home yielded an estimated $10,000 worth of what is believed to be heroin, morphine, codeine and marijuana.

He said the "factory" equipment cost in the area of $5,000 to establish. Sims and Assistant Police Chief Roy Beecher led a squad of detectives on the raid, after investigating information on the suspected operation.

When they arrived at the Palmer residence, the lawmen said they detected a "strong odor" of what seemed to be ether.

Determining there was a violation of the State Health and Safety Code—that is, of a provision that governs the possession of ether in a private home—the officers, at 11:35 a.m., demanded entrance to the home.

Upon being admitted, the detectives found "an elaborate laboratory setup" capable of producing methedrene and desozyn, both stimulating drugs worth about $30 an ounce.

Further search turned up the other supply of drugs.

Assisting the Daly City officers was Paul Daugherty, San Mateo County criminologist.

Bail for Palmer, who remains in custody, was set at $7,500.

Bail for Palmer, who remains in custody, was set at $7,500.

It was the second narcotics raid by Daly City police in less than three days.

Friday night, officers stopped a car containing several boxes of laboratory equipment and chemicals, and arrested three persons who had just left a Mission Street motel.

FAMILY FLEES FLAMES

3 Injured in Fire Truck Crash

A Mary's Help Hospital physician, on his way to the hospital, suffered a broken shoulder last Wednesday morning when his car, a Daly City fire truck, en route to a house fire and another car collided at Eastmoor and Sullivan Avenues.

A fireman, riding on the truck, and the driver of a third vehicle also were reported injured.

At the house fire, which caused an estimated $9,500 damage to the building, a fireman suffered a burned ear.

The doctor was identified as Richard F. Schneider, 37, who has offices at 48 Park Plaza Drive in Daly City. He is an orthopedist and is on the staff of Mary's Help Hospital.

He was taken to the hospital, which is less than a half mile from the scene of the accident. Investigators said he was thrown from his small, foreign-made car by the impact.

The driver of the third vehicle was identified as Gloria Wolcott of 284 Belhaven Avenue, Daly City. She was taken to Mary's Help for examination.

The fireman injured in the collision was identified as Capt. Robert Greenstrand of 277 Second Avenue, Daly City. A fire department spokesman said he injured his right shoulder. He was taken to Mary's Help for X-ray examinations.

The driver of the fire truck, Herbert Powell, was not injured. A second fire truck was sent to the house fire immediately after fire headquarters received word of the collision.

Injured while fighting the house fire, was Russell Lease of San Francisco.

The house is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Scurlock and their six children.

The parents and three children were home when flames broke out shortly after 8 a.m. in a toy box in a bedroom closet, firemen said.

The family fled unharmed. The flames gutted the closet and the bedroom and smoke and water damage was reported throughout the house, according to Capt. Melvin Hansen.

He said the fire was started by one of the children, playing with matches. He estimated damage at $6,500 to the building and $3,000 to the contents.

Police Car Bowled Over In San Bruno

A San Bruno policeman narrowly escaped serious injury early last Monday morning when a stopped vehicle he was investigating suddenly lurched backward, knocking the policeman's patrol car on its side.

The policeman, George A. Celillo, 44, had walked up to the vehicle shortly before 2:30 to determine why it was standing in the middle of Huntington Avenue, south of San Bruno Avenue.

Inside, he saw a man slumped over the wheel. The officer reported he shined his flashlight inside and knocked on the window in an effort to rouse the man.

Suddenly, he said, the man awoke and the car lurched backward.

It careened against the patrol car and the two cars, locked together, brushed against a parked car and rolled over a curb before the patrol car overturned.

The man was identified as Robert A. McFarlin, 48, of 147 San Bruno Avenue, San Bruno. The parked car, police said, was registered to his wife, Helen.

Patrolman Celillo said that at the time he approached McFarlin's car, it did not appear to be running and that he did not hear any engine noise.

Police said today an investigation was continuing.

Kitchen Is Damaged In Grease Fire

Hot grease for French fries being prepare for supper caught fire, causing major damage to the kitchen of the Michael Mullarky home at No. 3 Seabreeze Court in the Fairmont region of Pacifica at 6:35 p.m. May 31.

The grease burst into flames while Mrs. Gloria Mullarky checked progress of her husband's barbecuing activities outside.

Firemen said that when she went back inside Mrs. Mullarky discovered the blaze already had extended to cabinets over the stove.

Mullarky first pulled the pan off the stove, but in the process grease spilled, spreading the fire. As his wife rushed to use a neighbor's phone to call firemen, Mullarky took the couple's eight-month-old son, David, outside.

Returning to the house he threw a handful of potato peelings and water over the cabinets, succeeding in reducing the blaze as the oil began to burn itself out.

The kitchen and the appliances were damaged extensively, firemen said, and smoke damage throughout the house was heavy.

S.F. State Honors For D.C. Grads

Five residents of Daly City achieved the scholastic honors rating list of San Francisco State College and received special consideration at commencement exercises June 3. There were 111 honor students.

A candidate for the highest honors, summa cum laude, headed the list. He was Robert Henry Marchand, 1188 South Mayfair Avenue, an industrial arts major. Others included: Paula Anne Cathey, 225 Loronado, an English major, who is to be graduated magna cum laude, and Michael James Moratto, 255 Park Plaza, an anthropology major, who also received the magna cum. Three Daly City residents won cum laude honors: Darwin Norris Hennings, 67 Woodland, a zoology major; a journalism major, Robert E. Trager, 1076 Brunswick Street, and Shirley Eleanor Tucker, 401 Oriente Street, a home economics expert.

Another student being honored was Robert Ruebel, 24, of Daly City, a language arts major, who will represent those completing the master's degree.

Salute To Grads By Westlake

Westlake Shopping Center is doffing its cap to its two neighboring high schools this week — Westmoor and Jefferson, saluting graduating seniors with colorful window displays and school photographs.

Westlake Center merchants have dressed their store windows with trophies, Rams heads (Westmoor), Indian heads (Jeff), banners, megaphones, caps and gowns, pom-pom girl outfits and — you name it, thus transforming The Center into a Commencement panorama.

Cooperating with The Center in loaning and gathering the many precious school mementoes to the stores were Ed Cereghino, director of student affairs at Jefferson High School, and Richard Hart, attendance supervisor, and Phil Capitolo, senior counselor, at Westmoor.

Besides the many school insignias, Shopping Center stores are also displaying enlarged, graduating senior class pictures from both high schools.

Boy Swallows Cup of Bleach

An 18-month-old South San Francisco boy was admitted to County General Hospital after he swallowed a bowl of bleach last Wednesday night.

The youngster, David P. Kimbrell of 309 Chapman Street, was given emergency treatment at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco and then transferred to County General.

Police said the boy's stomach had swelled to twice its normal size after he had drank the bleach.

Pacifica Council Will Call Recreation Building Bids

Authorization to call for sealed bids for construction of the Fairmont Recreation Center has been given by Pacifica city councilmen.

A joint project of the city and the Fairmont Improvement Association, the building will be built on a site dedicated to the municipality a few years ago by developer Henry Doelger.

Cost of the project has been estimated at near $30,000.

The building will include an activity room, public restrooms, kitchen facilities and office-storage space, in addition to offices for use by the improvement association.

The association will provide $10,000 of the cost, with the City of Pacifica picking up the tab for the remainder.

Daly City Fire Confined to One Bedroom, Closet

An alert neighbor spotted smoke coming from a window at 31 Abbott Avenue in Daly City Friday night. Efficient firemen confined the blaze to a rear bedroom and closet in the home of Miss Mary Lombardo, who was away at the time. The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined. Firemen said Miss Lombardo had left the house more than 12 hours earlier, and that the fire had evidently been smoldering for quite a while.

Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken congratulates the Rev. James Bergin of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Daly City after he was invested in the purple robes of a monsignor last Sunday at ceremonies observing his half-century as a priest.

ON GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Fr. Bevgin, D.C. Priest, Receives Monsignor Rank

A 76-year-old Irish priest, who "would have preferred to have observed 50 years of priesthood in the regular performance of my Sunday duties and let it go at that," was honored in singular fashion May 29 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Daly City.

By Papal indult of His Holiness, Pope Paul VI, Father James Bergin knelt before Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken and was invested in the purple robes of a Domestic Prelate and bestowed with the rank of Right Reverend Monsignor.

"It is most fitting that 50 years of singular benevolence in priestly service to others, be recognized in this manner," Archbishop McGucken said, "because the work that Monsignor Bergin has done is an inspiration for all of us to work for one another with love and charity."

A pastor at Our Lady of Perpetual Help for the past 25 years, Msgr. Bergin was ordained to priesthood by the now-famous James Cardinal Gibbons at the Cathedral of the Assumption in Baltimore, Md., on May 25, 1916.

He was born on May 22, 1890 in Fairfield, Queens County, Ireland, and attended St. Mary's College, County Carlow, and St. Patrick's College, Maynooth. He completed his theological studies at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, Md.

Prior to going to Daly City, he had served as assistant pastor at St. Francis deSales Church, Oakland; St. John's, San Francisco Nativity Church, Menlo Park, and St. Anthony's Church, Oakland. In 1930 he was appointed pastor of Our Lady of Pillar Church in Half Moon Bay, and from 1936 to 1939 he was pastor of St. Sebastian's Church in Sebastapol. Following his investiture, Msgr. Bergin presided with Archbishop McGucken while a pastor for 10 years. The sermon Mass of Thanksgiving was celebrated by Father Adrian Mc-theu Sullivan, assistant pastor Kenna of Stockton, who had served with him as an assistant pastor for 10 years. The sermon was preached by Father Matthew Sullivan, assistant pastor at Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

Miss South San Francisco Pageant to Feature 9 Girls

Nine young ladies are in the San Francisco High student competition for the title of Miss South San Francisco of 1966. The deadline for entering the contest was May 30.

The Miss South San Francisco pageant will take place July 9, at the El Camino High School Little Theater.

The girls will be judged in evening gown and swim suit competition, and on a talent routine.

Those entered are: Maryrose Congin, 17, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Congin, 334 Arbor Drive, an El Camino High School junior.

Michele Denise Fratus, 16, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fratus, 130 Adrian Avenue, also an El Camino junior.

Donna Marie Eli, 17, 521 Elm Court, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eli, a student at South San Francisco High.

Kathy Ann Murphy, 17, another South San Francisco High student, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Murphy, 229 aor Drive.

Diana Scroggins, 16, a South

San Francisco High student whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Scroggins, 112 Arden Avenue.

Barbara Sams, 18, of 519 Lassen Street, a senior at South Sa Francisco High, whose guardians are Mr. and Mrs. Manor Drive.

Judy Lee Ambler, 17, another El Camino senior, the daughter of Mrs. Marie Ambler, 559 Commercial Street.

Laura Marie Howard, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Howard, 543 Eucalyptus Avenue, a South San Francisco High junior.

Vickie Page, 17, 436 Constitution Way.

The first presentation of the contestants will be tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, when a Sponsors' Tea is held in the multi-purpose room of the Buri School.

In charge of the tea and the contest itself is Dolly Schumacher, pageant director, a former Miss South San Francisco who now runs a school specializing in dance, modeling and charm courses.

A Twist-He Still Has Shirt

Arthur McCann of Daly City hasn't yet lost his shirt—but he probably is getting short on suits about now.

McCann, who lives in an apartment at 25 Poncetta Drive, reported to Daly City police last Thursday that a sneaky daytime thief apparently took inventory of his closet—perhaps during a raid of McCann's living quarters last month, when several items turned up missing.

Thieves Take Watch, Rings

Thieves stole jewelry valued at more than $500 from the home of a South San Francisco resident, police reported last week.

Alfred J. Castro of 211 Rockwood Drive told investigators that two rings and a watch were stolen from a bedroom. He said the thieves apparently got into the house through the bedroom window.

By LE PACINI

ATTENDING A Giant hitting clinic for coaches recently at Calaveras, we cadged some interesting quotes from instructors Hank Sauer and Cookie Lavaghetto. As is inevitable when baseball people get together, not a remark was made directly to do with hitting. We've chosen what we think were among the more interesting and significant remarks.

Lavaghetto had much to say about the so-called "dominant eye." All people have one eye which "dominates" the other, which is, in effect, more proficient than the other. He thinks it's important for all hitters to know which one of their eyes is dominant.

He recalled how, when Gil Hodges first broke in with the Dodgers, he was being continually called out on pitches over the outside six inches of the plate—pitches which he swore were way outside. Hodges was given a test and it was discovered that his left eye, the eye closest to the pitcher (he being a right-handed batter), was dominant.

Hodges at the time used an open stance, his left leg pointed more down the baseline so that he more or less faced the pitcher. Because of this type of stance, Hodges "good" eye wasn't in a position to pick up the outer corner of the plate. The Dodger brass "closed his stance so that his left eye had to automatically be drawn in more over the plate. He began picking up the outside pitches, and was on his way to becoming one of the game's greatest.

IDEALLY, the dominant eye should be the hitter's "back" eye, right for right handed batters, left for lefties. One of the coaches suggested that it might be a good idea for managers of very young players to determine the dominant eye of youngsters and to then switch them to the proper side of the plate, while they're still young enough to learn, if the "back" eye isn't dominant. Lavaghetto thought it was a good idea.

Other Lavaghetto quotes: "Willie Mays is so strong, he's one of the few men in the majors who can be fooled on a change-up and still have power enough left to hit it out of the park."

"Hit and running is great if you have guys who can hit the ball."

"Keeping your head still is one of the most important factors in hitting. When Jimmy Hart's hitting, you could balance a glass of water on his head when he's swinging."

Sauer, the old home-run slugger who handled the "long ball" segment of the clinic, as opposed to Lavaghetto's segment, which dealt more with the "nuances" of hitting, also had interesting things to say:

"One of the hardest things to get a player—especially a young player—to do when he's in a batting slump is to keep him playing hard in all other departments. Few managers will bench a guy who isn't hitting if he's doing other things to help the club."

"But most youngsters get down on themselves and slump in everything. If they'd only keep hustling they'd keep themselves in the lineup. And that's the only way they'll ever make real money in this game. They'll rarely make it on the bench."

"That's one of the reasons Mays makes $125,000 a year. He gives his manager everything he's got every minute of the game. He plays if he hits zero, because he'll run and catch and throw for you."

"Contrary to popular opinion, scouts—at least Giant scouts—don't scout only size. We look at everything, including the boy's home environment and character. And if he's a good ball player, we don't care how big he is."

"Personally, I feel that in many ways smaller men are more valuable because they can usually do more things than big men—except hit the long one."

IT MIGHT BE significant to note here that Sauer, himself, is 6-4, and that the Giants DO have a number of relatively small men on their squad. For two, neither Mays nor Hart are overly big, nor are Barton, Fuentetaja, or Davenport. And, of course, there was Matty Alou and Manny Mota and Jose Cardinal. You can probably think of others.

Sauer also refuted the theory that scouts look for pull hitters. "We'd rather find the boys who can hit well to all fields. They're the real hitters."

Neither Mays nor Hart are strictly pull hitters, nor was that guy, what's his name, Cepeda?

Sauer, who played some football himself, claims that the game has made serious inroads on baseball.

"As football has become more popular, more glamorous, more fine young athletes are passing up baseball for football. Even if they later return to baseball, they've missed valuable experience, often have bad knees, and almost invariably have become 'muscle-bound' through the shoulders to the extent that they have a very difficult time in swinging the bat properly."

"Good hitters must be loose through the chest and shoulder areas. Unfortunately, this 'tightness' is all too often permanent. We've had to cut loose many ex-footballers who otherwise looked very promising."

Sauer, needless to say, doesn't believe in weightlifting—except to strengthen the wrists.

BIG HANK had some flattering things to say for West Coast baseball coaches and managers of youngsters.

"Possibly the biggest detriment to good hitting is 'hip-locking.' But it's a funny thing. We have relatively little trouble with Westcoast youngsters in this particular problem, or in others, for that matter. Coaches out here are with baseball all year around, attend clinics and so forth."

"It's surprising how many youngsters in other parts of the country have absolutely no concept of how to break the habit of hip-locking. In other words, not pivoting on the back foot. That's usually my biggest chore when I tour our minor league camps." (Sauer, among other duties, acts as a roving batting instructor for the organization.)

Perhaps Sauer's most pertinent remark, finally:

"You can take a poor hitter and improve him to the point where he can help the club by bunting, hitting behind the runner, taking a walk, and so forth. But when all is said and done, after you've taught the kid all the mechanics there are for good hitting, if he still can't hit, forget him. Good hitters are born, not made."

FOR THOSE of you who still think the Giants have no pitching, bear in mind the maxim that one of the surest ways of determining pitching effectiveness is to check the ratio of strikeouts as against walks.

The last time we looked, the Giants had struck out more batters and walked fewer than any team in the NL. They had, in fact, struck out more than any team in the majors and only the Twins had walked fewer than the Giant pitching staff.

Westlake Bowl Notes

By the time this column is read, the BPAA tournament will be over. There were four teams that qualified from Sea Bowl, and I know the girls did the very best they could. I hope by this time next week I have good news to report about the tournament.

The standings for the past week:

Mermaids — Bowling for Bob's Dance Workshop, Claire Mori had the high series with a 539, and also a pair Hahn a 204, for her team. Tri Chem. Also rolling a nice game and series for Regal Upholstery was Sheryl Wetenkamp, a 188 and 519. 535 Scratch, Goose Colorado was high for the evening with two games of 224 and 263 for an 827 four game series. Also rolling a nice series: Pete Thomas, a 233 and 783. 835 Scratch—Bowling for the Vagabond, Larry Kennedy was high with a 225 and 608. Frank Millionaire game for the night a 255 for 606.

Carol Allen bowling for Valmar Super, a 201 and 541. Ebb Tide—Cora Wagner was high for the day with a 197 and 536. Bowling for Chuck's Signal, Mary Sloan: a 189 and 526. Keglerettes—Betty Thomas was high with 526. Teammate Rita Ellefson had high game of 188.

Kings and Queens—Frank Mendibles, bowling for Jess's Barber Shop took high series with a 604. He tied high game with Jim Campbell, bowling for Seavue Realty, both rolling a 211. For the ladies, also of Seavue Realty, Iris Cuffe (A 506) was high. Yawners—For the Brown Furniture Co., Doreen Armas led the gals with a 447. 500 Handicap Trio: Nina Hefner was high with a 724 series for the four games. Surfside 10—Carl Brown led the men with a 584 series.

Daly City Baseball

(This summary of Daly City youth baseball league action was prepared by the Daly City Recreation Department.)

MIDGET LEAGUE—PACIFIC COAST DIVISION: The PAL Dodgers won their ninth game in a row, defeating the PAL Red Sox, 3-1. Dodger pitcher Gary Lindsey held the Red Sox to three hits, while striking out 11.

Teammate Roy Taylor collected two hits in four trips to lead the Dodger attack. The OLP Cardinals defeated Calvary Cross, 10-6, behind the hitting of Ted while Mayvora homered and singled. The Holy Angels Lions won their second game in a row last week. They defeated the OLP Bluejays, 8-2, behind the combined no-hit pitching of Jim Fiscaro and Art Reyes. Pete Woolery led the Lions hitting attack with a perfect three-for-three at the plate.

Ricky Shields pitched a no-hitter to lead the OLP Braves team to a 10-0 win over the OLM Rams.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE: The OLM Wolves split a pair of games last week as they romped past BYA Bender Roofing 20-4 but were halted by the PAL Colts 9-1. In the BYA game, Dan Cullenich was the outstanding player as he collected four hits each for the Bombers were Gary Solter with a homerun and Pat Twomey with two stand-up trips.

The Williams Ford PAL Mustangs exploded for 40 runs and 32 hits in two games last week as they romped past the OLP Falcons 20-4 and Blake's Bulldogs 20-2. Collecting four hits each for the Mustangs in the two game series were Ted Gray, and Zane Pile. Tommy Lagan of the Falcons topped all hitters with a perfect 4 for 4 at the plate.

Record Field in Tourney

$2,000 Set
For Winners

A record field of 170 players is expected to be on the fairways at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club tomorrow for the eleventh annual Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Golf Tournament.

The event, which each year draws a host of city, judicial, school, civic and community leaders, will wind up with an awards banquet at the Lake Merced club at 7:15 p.m.

Peter Markovich, manager of the chamber and tournament chairman, said almost $2,000 worth of prizes will be awarded.

The field of contestants will include six former tournament winners. Markovich, himself, is a former winner (1964) and will be in the second foursome to tee off.

He was a runnerup last year when the tournament ended in a tie between Joseph Sarto and Jack Lucetti. The duo carded two-under-par 70s. Both have entered this year's competition.

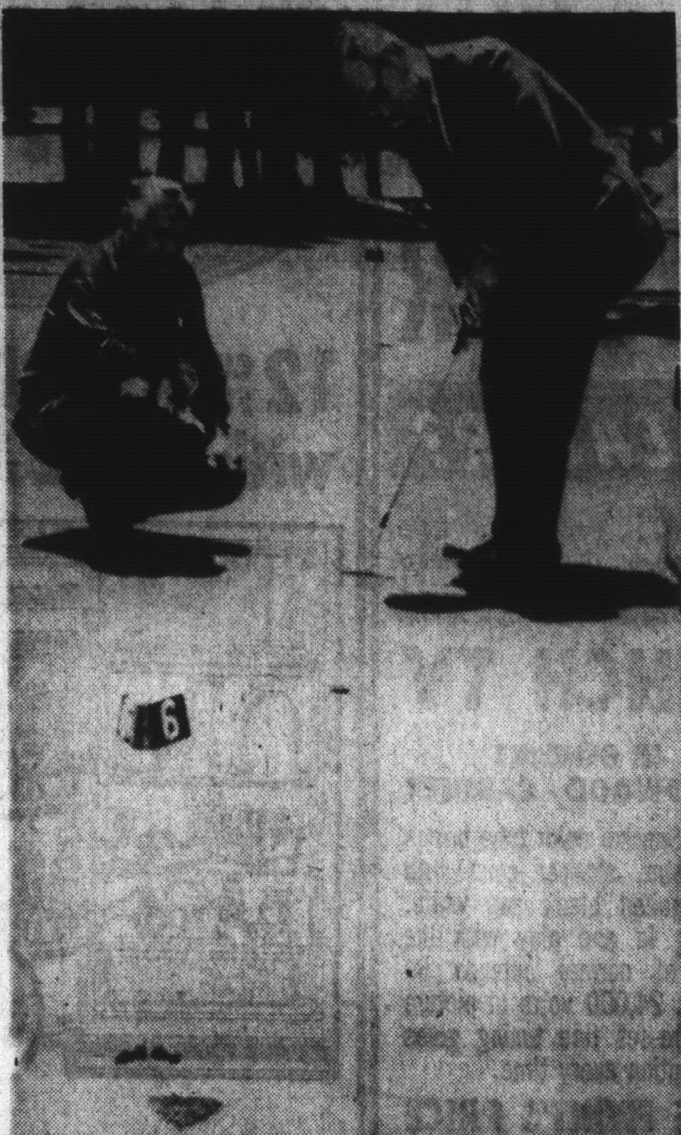

The tournament returns to Lake Merced this year after a two-year absence.

Because of freeway construction that necessitated a realignment of the Lake Merced Course, the tournament was held at the Silverado Golf and Country Club in Napa Valley last year and at the Olympic Club in 1964.

Last year's entry list totaled 137 players. The record for the tourney is 148, set five years ago.

In addition to the tournament, a hole-in-one competition will be held for all players. Five prizes will be awarded winners.

Tournament play will begin at 8 a.m. and players will be teeing off throughout the day.

PRACTICING PUTT for 11th Annual Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce golf tourney is Edward Morgan, superintendent of Jefferson Union High School District, as Chamber of Commerce Executive Secretary Peter J. Markovich supervises. Action begins tomorrow at Lake Merced.

D.C. Basketball League Set

Signups are now being taken for the 1966 Summer High School Basketball League sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department. The league is open to all high school boys who attend school or live in Daly City.

Boys entering the 9th grade or just leaving the 12th grade are eligible to play.

Games will be played on Monday and Thursday evenings, beginning July 7. Games start at 7:00 p.m.

CSM Chooses Six Men As Most Valuable Athletes

College of San Mateo athletes in six sports have picked teammates to receive most valuable player awards.

Chosen most valuable track athlete was veteran sprinter Herb Ashton from South San Francisco High. Cinder coach John Barnes presented Ashton with his trophy at CSM's annual spring sports awards banquet.

Most valuable field man trophy went to national junior college pole vault record breaker Dennis Phillips, from Carlmont High.

Another North County athlete, Curt Mignacco of South San Francisco, was recognized as the most improved golfer.

According to his coach Ray Balsley, Mignacco's average dropped from 81 last season to 76 this year.

The most valuable golfer award went to Joe Ward, a

CSM sophomore from Serra High.

The Bulldog swim team, which completed the "finest season in the history of the school," according to coach Rich Donner, voted most valuable honors to CSM athlete-of-the-year Don Gray and most-improved recognition to sophomore Neil McCarthy from Menlo-Atherton High.

Baseball coach John Nocer handed the most valuable player trophy to slugging outfielder Jim Magnuson, sophomore from San Carlos High, and the leading pitcher award to undefeated Norm Angelini, freshman from Serra High.

Both were first team all-Golden Gate Conference selections. Along with third baseman Brian Cate, a sophomore from El Camino High. Shortstop John Herron from Mills High received second team all-GGC honors for the second year. In tennis, number two men Ed Menges, sophomore from Aragon High and San Mateo, took the MVP trophy.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

MEMORIAL DAY BROUGHT a lull to the planning of social events that is still being evidenced on the date-book calendar this week.

News of new officers and installations still is prevalent in the reports from various publicity chairmen.

Mrs. Selmar J. Monroe, publicity chairman of the Golden Gate Kindergarten Association Auxiliary, informs us that Mrs. Owen Kellogg has been selected president of the auxiliary for the coming term. Assisting her will be Mrs. Daniel Young, vice president; Mrs. Andrew Thom, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Richard Spawen, recording secretary and Mrs. Norman Wheeler, treasurer.

The new board is being honored today during the group's annual "play day" being held in the San Mateo home of Mrs. Henry Herz.

The Peninsula members of the unit are acting as hostesses for the champagne luncheon which will be held at the Herz's pool-side patio. Mrs. Norman Stone, Mrs. Thomas Thomasser, Mrs. Richard Fouquet, Mrs. Robert Glockner, Mrs. Roger Mackin, Mrs. Reinold Jones and Mrs. Howard Harden will be on the hostess committee.

SURE TO RECEIVE additional plaudits for the excellent program they whipped up for the Phoebe A. Hearst Preschool Learning Center will be Mrs. Murray H. Freedman and her committee, Mrs. William H. Cereske, Mrs. Howard Harden and Mrs. William Logan, Jr.

The ladies sold the ads and designed a delightful format, featuring line drawings from the Child Art Collection of Rhoda Kellogg, and incorporated these diverse items with an interesting resume of the learning center's history and a biographical sketch on Mrs. Kellogg into a sizeable keepsake booklet.

HOME FROM a four-day holiday in their Sierra County hideaway are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Morford.

THE MEMBERS of the Alumnae chapter of the Alpha Iota Honorary Business Sorority held their monthly business meeting in the home of Mrs. Barbara Wolowic last night.

The election of new officers preceded a demonstration of Shaklee products.

Attending the meeting was Mrs. Janice McCraney of Westlake who has just returned to her Westlake home after spending two weeks in Sacramento while she and her husband were serving with their reserve units at McClellan Air Force base.

The McCranays and their beautiful cocker spaniel, Heather, were pictured in a recent edition of the Alpha Iota National Newsletter and cited for their long-time association with the military.

THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE of Pacifica's Fifty Plus Club will recommend a slate of officers for the 1966-67 term on June 28.

Members are being invited to give consideration to persons they feel would make good officers and nominations will be accepted from the floor that evening.

The club will hold its regular meeting next Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. and final announcements concerning this week end's trip to San Diego will be made.

CUBS FROM PACK 63 were among the enthralled members of the Friday afternoon audience in Kezar Pavilion where the Rudy Brothers Circus was being presented.

The youngsters were enjoying the show as guests of an anonymous friend who gave the tickets to Mr. and Mrs. Vern Pulliam for the Cubs.

Next major event on the pack schedule is the annual Pack-nic to be held June 17 in Sigmund Stern Grove in San Francisco.

The Cubs and their parents will play games and barbecue their supper before returning home.

R. C. OWENS, the 220-pound speedster for the Baltimore Colts Football team will be the speaker and guest of honor at a youth program to be held Sunday evening at 7 p.m. in the Ingleside Presbyterian Church, 1345 Ocean Avenue in San Francisco.

Westlake's Rev. James Griffes has indicated that teen-agers from all over this area are invited to attend the program which is being presented under the auspices of the South of Mt. Davidson Churches.

Owens, whose tour of the nation is being underwritten by the J. C. Penney Company, will show a film documentary of his life entitled, "Extra Effort," and will speak on the importance of education and the selection of a career.

A former Washington State football star, Owens is a long-time member of the American Association of Christian Athletes.

MR. AND MRS. KONSTANTINOS POULOS and their Westlake neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Murray H. Freedman were surprised and delighted to find they were sharing the same motel during a Memorial Day holiday in Sonora.

The Freedmans and their sons, Rickey and Jeff, relaxed at the poolside between jaunts that saw them touring the Lost Mine in Columbia, panning for gold in the old boom town and descending to the depths of the marvelously eerie and historic Moaning Cave.

The family ended the weekend with an evening at the theater where they enjoyed the road company production of "Funny Girl."

FULLY RECUPERATED from the excitement and bustle of their son's Bar Mitzvah are Dr. and Mrs. Louis Minkin of Westlake.

The Minkin's son, Harold David Minkin celebrated his Bar Mitzvah i Temple Judea recently before a large congregation which included a number of friends and relatives from out of town locales.

PREPARATIONS ARE CONTINUING at a rapid pace for a Vacation Church School to be held at Lakeside Presbyterian Church from June 20 to July 1 under the direction of Mrs. William Best.

The school will begin at 9 a.m. daily and classes will be dismissed at 12 noon during the two week term. According to Mrs. Best there will be no fees for registration or materials but only a limited number, approximately 200 youngsters, can be accepted so plan to reserve space for your children soon by calling 564-8833.

Mrs. Best is assisted by Mrs. Robert Lintner, registrar; Mrs. Edward Keller, Music; Mrs. Harold Muller, Crafts; Miss Susan Rohrbaugh, Primary; Mrs. Roe Johnston and Mrs. Basil Koude, kindergarten; Mrs. David Fay, prekindergarten; Mrs. Richard Berggreen, nursery, and Mrs. Ralph Pfeiffer, kitchen.

'Sounds of Big Bands' For Westlake's Affair

"Sounds of the Big Bands," as played by Sal Carson and his 18-piece Astro recording orchestra, will fill the air Saturday night at beautiful Elks Lodge, South San Francisco, when Westlake Shopping Center Merchants Association stages its annual Spring Informal Dinner Dance.

Original arrangements, reminiscent of the likes of Harry James, Tommy Dorsey, Benny Goodman and Glenn Miller, with many of the originating sidemen who played with those greats, are on tap for the more than 200 merchants, their wives and guests.

The Carson band features Miss Mackie Brooks on vocals, Billy Nawrocki on drums and Bill Perkins on tenor saxophone. Miss Brooks headlined at many of the Lake Tahoe area supper clubs before joining with the Carson crew, while Nawrocki has been called "the closest thing to the great Buddy Rich" (featured drummer with Harry James). Perkins is a former Benny Goodman sideman who made the now famous "Mission to Moscow" with the King of Swing for the State Department.

In all, it will be a night to remember for the Association and its guests. The elegant, new Lodge ballroom is being transformed into a virtual picture garden for the occasion. Special staging, atmospheric props, flowers and Hollywood lighting effects will transform the ballroom into a "breath of Spring".

DAVID PEEBLES, LINDA LONG

Couple Sets Cafeteria Menu Altar Date

A December wedding at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church of Daly City is planned for Linda Long and David Peebles whose betrothal was announced at an open house party by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Long, 118 Santa Paula Drive, Daly City.

Linda, sister of Janice, Marjorie and Thomas, is a graduate of Westmoor High School and is now attending San Francisco State College. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caris Mickelsen, Half Moon Bay.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Peebles, 807 Beechwood Drive, Colma, and grandson of Mrs. Elizabeth Bennetts of Sacramento and Mr. and Mrs. David Peebles, Detroit, Mich., is a graduate of Westmoor High School and San Francisco State College. He is now working for his secondary credentials.

Awards Given Cub Scouts Of D.C. Pack 724

Steven Burroughs received his Lions badge at the Cub Scout Pack 724 meeting in Daly City and two other Cubs, John Dunn and John Charles Smith were welcomed to the Webelos den.

Awards for neckerchief tying and knot tying contests were presented. Michael Thomas won the kerchief event, while John Dunn tied seven different knots to win the knot tying contest.

Den One received the inspection award for the month.

The month's theme, "Around the World With Cubs," was displayed by Den Three, which has adopted a Cub Scout in Ithaca, N.Y., and has sent supplies for a Cub in Vietnam.

Columbus School Teacher's Troth Is Disclosed

The engagement of Miss Diana M. Paccagnella, a third grade teacher in Daly City's Christopher Columbus School, to Terrance R. Duncan of San Francisco has been disclosed by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paccagnella of San Francisco.

Miss Paccagnella was graduated from San Francisco State College in 1965.

Duncan is a third year law student at San Francisco Law School.

A September 24 wedding, at St. James Church, San Francisco, is planned.

Temple Judea Sets June 12 for Picnic

Temple Judea Brotherhood has scheduled its annual picnic for June 12 at Vichy Springs, near Napa.

Price will be $2 for adults and $1.50 for children in religious school.

Ice cream and cokes will be provided for the children and coffee will be provided for the adults.

Several events have been planned for the day, including swimming and team sports.

Friends to Fete S.S.F. Teacher

A retirement and testimonial dinner for Mrs. Viola Happy, a South San Francisco School District teacher for 43 years, will be held today at the Brentwood Lodge.

Former pupils, P-TA, school district personnel, civic and business leaders are expected to pay tribute to Mrs. Happy, who presently teaches at the Martin School.

Rotarians Hear Chief of Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children

Miss Clara Wallace, administrator of the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children in San Francisco, was the speaker at last week's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club of Daly City. She was introduced by the day's program chairman, Hoke Garrison.

Mothers To Seat Staff

One of the big events of the year for the Mother's Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help will be tomorrow at 8 p.m., when the installation of new officers is held at candlelight ceremonies.

Tradition holds that as each new officer is sworn in she lights one candle on the candleabrum and then one remaining candle is lit for the continuing success of the club.

Installing officers will be two former presidents of the Mother's Club, Mrs. Richard Holmberg and Mrs. Jack Morgan.

Officers to be installed are Mrs. Joseph Drew, president; Mrs. Roy Galli, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Battaglia, recording secretary; Mrs. William Gonzales, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Leland Evans, financial secretary; Mrs. Alfred Galliano, treasurer and Mrs. James Healey, auditor.

New members of the board of directors are Mrs. Joseph Daniele, Mrs. Walter Phemister, Mrs. Raymond Giordani, Mrs. Walter Taffalis and Mrs. John Candau.

Sixth grade mothers will be hostesses for the evening headed by roommothers Mrs. Leland Evans and Mrs. Thomas Winter.

Youth Group Plans North Beach Outing

A special outing to the North Beach area of San Francisco is planned for Sunday for the high school youth group of Westlake Lutheran Church.

Miss Linda Berglund, president of the group, announced the group will leave the church at 4 p.m., have dinner at the Old Spaghetti Factory, and later study the unique ministry of the Rev. Charles Lewis, pastor of the North Beach Mission LCA.

At the dinner, plans for an outdoor camping retreat near Jackson, California, for the week of July 11, will be announced.

Miss Wallace said the handicapped child is taught to become as independent as possible and to learn to live within his handicap. The child loses self pity and learns to consider the needs of others.

For example, a small boy with club feet was more concerned about a boy with deformed hands than with himself, because he had heard that hands were more difficult to repair than feet.

The children learn to make the best use of artificial aids

City of Hope Chapter To Seat Officers

The Northern Peninsula Chapter of the City of Hope will hold its installation dinner at the New Southern Restaurant, 975 El Camino, South San Francisco, at 7 p.m., today.

Installing officer will be Mrs. Sally Strauss, regional director of the City of Hope auxiliaries.

To be seated are: Mrs. Marvin Silver, president; Mrs. Charles Mayerson, first vice-president; Mrs. Jeome Lustig, second vice-president; Mrs. Leon Kaster, recording secretary; Mrs. Phillip Brown, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur La Pedis, financial secretary; Mrs. Lou Levy, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Donald Feldman, trustee.

Bethel Church Youths to Attend Oakland Event

Bethel Church 1-18-3 A group of Pacifica Bethel Church Christ Ambassadors plans to attend the semi-formal Galarama, a night for youth sponsored by the East Bay and Peninsula Sections of the Assemblies of God Church, from 8 p.m. to midnight, Friday, at the Kaiser Center, Oakland.

The event will feature dining, fellowship and Christian entertainment.

As a special tribute to its youth, the Bethel Church will sponsor its seniors, Paula Ehrhorn of Terra Nova High School, and Michael Boswell of Oceana High School. Another Ocean High senior, Sue Cushing, will be unable to attend. Along with the high school graduates, there will be several juniors and graduating eighth graders.

COMMENT

That 'Mountain' Still Far Away

THE engineer must spend years before a drawing board before he builds great dams. . .

The future businessman will work long hours, at minimum pay, for several years before he gets a chance at an executive position. . .

The lawyer, too, will work as a minor cog in a big law office, probably before he "hangs out his shingle." . .

WITH the fever of commencement becoming more intense on the campuses of such schools as Jefferson, Westmoor, Oceana and Terra Nova in the North County, these are somber thoughts—ones which are well worth more than casual contemplation.

They push aside a host of trivial observations, particularly at this time of year when a number of commencement exercise speakers will fill with a volume or better with advice to the young people as to their future.

The orators usually envision the high school and college graduate "going forth to take part in building a better tomorrow."

But, the truth is, they are not going to be doing anything of the sort.

AGAIN, ponder the struggles of the engineer, the lawyer and the businessman as proof that they will not be building anything for a while. They will be hard pressed to make enough money to keep up with rising costs; trying to adjust to new jobs that may not fit them and trying to find the ones that do; trying to adjust to married life, perhaps, as well.

Indeed, it may be years before they get any chance at all to start to achieve the things they dream about as graduating seniors.

For the graduate of today will be about 30 to 35 before he even gets a glimpse of the "mountains" the orators tell them about—that is, before the gain the accomplishments he can call his own, which make all of life worthwhile.

It is what to do with the 10 to 15 years between then and now a graduate ought to be advised. How to make the next 10 years, or better, useful in building experience, attitudes and knowledge of living, so that when the opportunity comes—he will be prepared!

The Marquee

'Wednesday' —A Change!

Barbara Bladen

Zowie, vavoom and holy mammary. "Any Wednesday" has changed considerably since its first time around. June Wilkinson is a far cry from Sandy Dennis who played it originally. It's the difference between casting from Playboy Magazine or Seventeen.

The lines are the same but with Miss Wilkinson's soft British accent and knockout figure, the jokes take on a different meaning. She makes all those lines about wanting a large family, a garden in the suburbs, a vine-covered cottage and a kitchen to bake brownies all sound like bad scripting. Somehow it doesn't matter what she's saying, just looking at her is enough compensation for the males in the audience. The females will marvel at what is being done in "other places."

But the latest production at the Geary Theatre has little going for it in the first half. Things pick up considerably after the audience learns that the couple sharing a rather bizarre New York apartment are not married, that the man is a wealthy executive, the blonde is his mistress and they only play "House" on Wednesdays when his wife thinks he's away on business.

John Dutra plays the role of the pompous tycoon who is arrogant, childish and conceited as if the audience were full of boobs. He mugs, he shouts, he rolls his eyes, he snaps his cuffs and he overacts. One would think we didn't get the point, the way he drives home his lines and does everything but spell out the situation on a blackboard.

FAR MORE NATURAL and likeable a character is Frank Farmer as the Knight in Shining Armor who rides out of the Midwest to save her from the Big Bad Wolf. Since she's set up housekeeping in the tax-deductible "executive suite" of her boyfriend's company, more than one business associate tries to make use of the facilities, including the boss's wife.

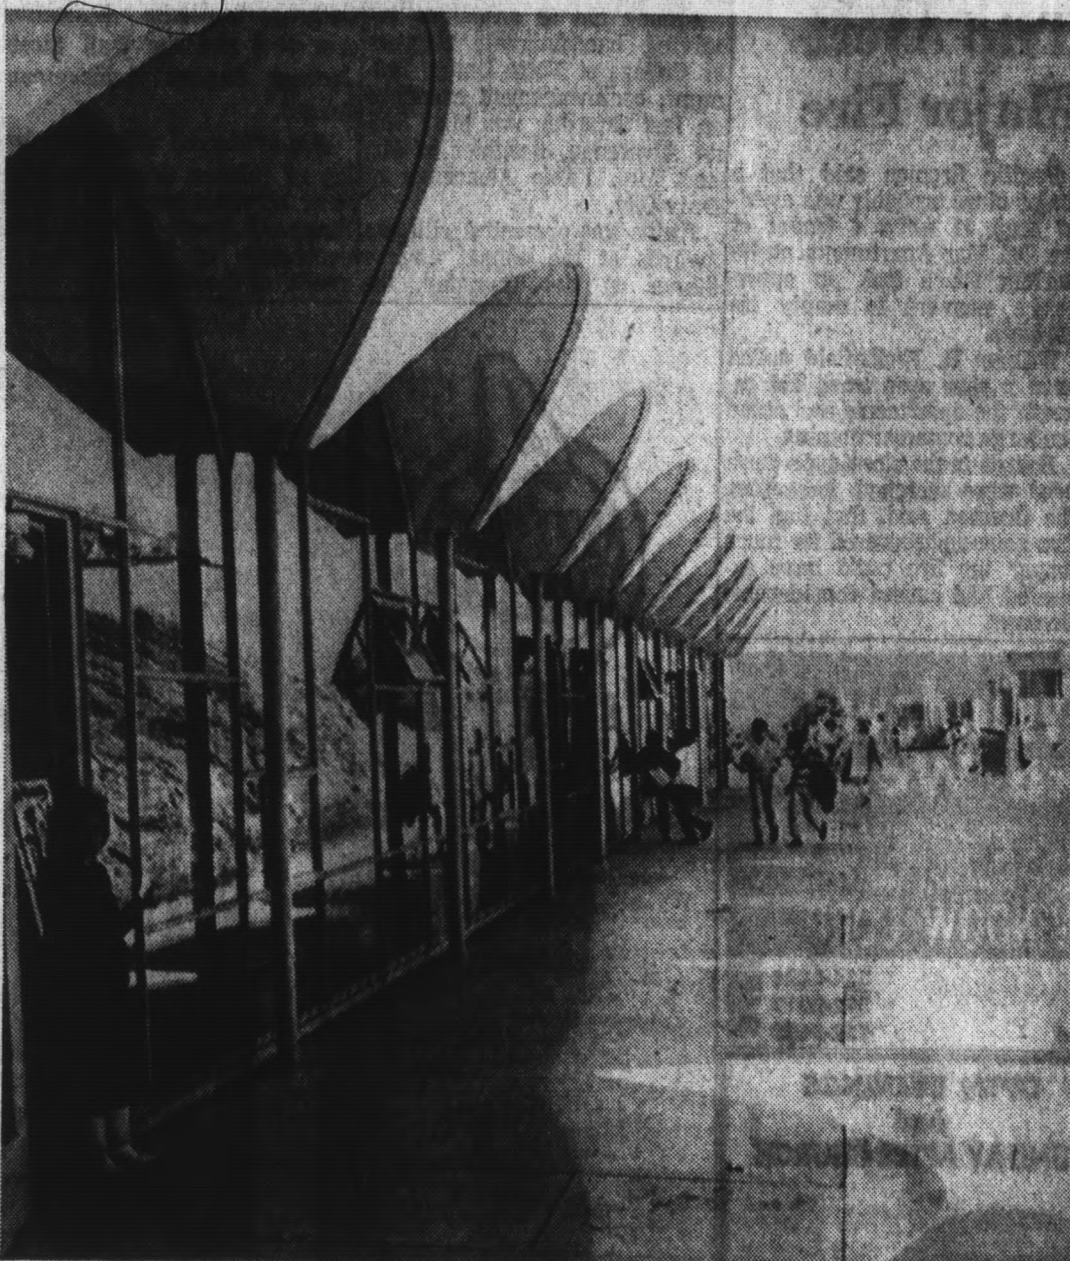

Patricia Jenkins gets caught up in the slick projection that makes this production too stagey, too slick and generally tiresome. She has verve and sophistication, is a thoroughly delightful personality and glib to a point of fault but she handles her assignment with ease and keeps the pace brisk.

There are only a few good lines in the quadrangle affair. One when the kept Dolly explains her permanent presence in the apartment to the business client who checks in to wash up as a "sort of scholarship arrangement, like a Ford grant or a Fulbright." He picks up the diamond necklace the cutie has received from her once-a-week lover for her birthday and remarks, "you must have made the Dean's list."

THE PLAY IS ONE LONG shaggy dog story that is neither dirty nor particularly funny. There are lapses into boredom, a strain to get laughs and a gibbiness that doesn't ring true.

It hangs on a thread of unpredictability. Miss Wilkinson's knockout figure (almost all of which is exposed in a bikini in the last scene in case you're tempted to leave early) and the daffy decor of a one-set apartment.

"Any Wednesday" belongs in the same category as "Barefoot in the Park," "Marriage Go Round," "Mary, Mary" in making the sex angle substitute for solid writing. Heaven knows it's here to say but can't we who attend the citadels (theatres) get it without so much sophomoric sugarcoating.

Better Business

Moving Estimates Are Just That!

Lorene Beasley

DON'T MAKE the mistake of the woman who believed that the low estimate of an unethical moving company representative meant that the cost of her move from Florida to California would also be low. She found herself with bales of old dog fencing, a children's playhouse and furniture that should have been sold or given away and a huge overcharge over the original estimate.

An estimate is only a guess. All estimates are now required to be in writing. Regardless of any prior estimate, do not accept an oral estimate. Carriers cannot determine what a move will cost until all packing has been completed and the goods loaded and weighed. In a long distance move the weight charge is determined at an official weight station after the goods are loaded on the moving van. If the shipment weighs less than 1,000 pounds, the carrier may weigh it prior to loading.

LOADING TIME is not a consideration in a long distance move. On the other hand, time is the consideration which normally controls a local move. The carrier will, if requested, notify by telegraph or telephone, the weight of the shipment and the charges as soon as they have been determined. This may or may not cost more than the original estimate. If the actual charges in intrastate shipping exceed the original estimate by more than 10 per cent of $25 (whichever is the greater), the carrier is required to notify you at his expense.

Reweighing is done only when it is practicable to do so. An extra charge may be made for the reweighing but only if the difference between the two net weights obtained does not exceed 100 pounds (if the shipment weighs 5,000 pounds or less) or does not exceed 2 per cent of the lower net weight if shipment weighs more than 5,000 pounds. The lower of the two net weights must be used in determining the charges.

THERE WAS the woman who lived for two days with her children in an empty house waiting for the moving van. When it arrived in late afternoon the driver could not accept her personal check and the furniture had to be delivered to a local warehouse at additional charges. Payments to moving companies must be in cash, traveler's checks, money order or certified check unless prior billing arrangements have been made.

There was the woman who lost all of her prized crystal with the exception of one long goblet. She learned too late that the standard liability set forth by federal and state commissions, which is 30c per pound per article, did not provide protection for her prized possessions.

Check with your moving company representative concerning available protection for your household goods. Enjoy your next move and thoroughly relax with your household goods in the hands of an established and qualified moving company.

To Be Mexico Bound

A LITTLE ADVANCE knowledge of the language and customs will be helpful for Daly City Senior Girl Scouts Kris McArthur, Joyce Solari, and Karen White on their 15-day tour of Mexico. It starts June 26. (Post Photo)

Pacific Parade

A Nostalgic Look Backward

Don Miller

WITH A RUSH of nostalgia and a fond, lingering glance backward, Pacific Parade winds up a three and a half year run on these pages as we head for a new (for us) field of corporate news work and public relations.

To say that we're going to miss you folks, your communities, your tales of joy and woe, is to grossly understate the case. The North County, it can be non-editorially stated, has become the most vibrant and exciting part of San Mateo County here in the mid-sixties and we're honored and proud to have been able to play a role.

ONE OF THE aspects of the North County we're going to miss are the people who comprise its governmental, school and community leaders. With almost no exceptions, they are a highly likable lot and — most important to a newsman — a highly conversant lot.

PEOPLE LIKE Peter Markovich, the affable manager of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce who, with an inevitable cigar in his hand, has probably the area's largest storehouse of funny anecdotes and as a result, is never, but NEVER at a loss for words.

The only time he was stumped was at the testimonial luncheon they gave Mae Haaland, his former secretary, and that was the day Pete just couldn't talk. He thought too much of Mae and her services to the chamber over the years to say anything coherent.

Or people like Frank Pacelli, Daly City's back-slapping councilman and former mayor, who understandably wants you to believe that everything's fine with Daly City and if it isn't, something will be done about it — and soon.

Frank has a fabled ability for remembering names and as a result, he's a master of ceremonies extraordinaire. But like anybody, he has a mental block now and then and one of those "thens" took place at a luncheon when he forgot our name — which coincidentally happened after we had written a few lines a few days prior about his expertise name-remembering.

THEN THERE'S Elio Fontana, the hard-working chairman of the Jefferson Union High School District's board of trustees. We have to admire the way Elio sits at those long board meetings, frowning and twiddling a pencil impatiently — knowing that what he's listening to has been said before but determined (most of the time) to let the speaker have his say.

Although the two are close acquaintances and involved in the same civic organizations, Elio always calls District Supt. Ed Morgan "Mister Morgan" while Ed, at least at chamber of commerce gatherings, always refers to Fontana as Elio.

We notice, however, that at board meetings, the "Elio" becomes "Mr. Chairman." After all, friendship is friendship but the boss is the boss.

Then, too, there's Elio's counterpart on the Jeff Elementary board, Tom Noonan, who has, we think, almost a fantastic knack of keeping mum on a controversial issue until all of his fellow board members have expounded their views.

It's almost as if Tom wants to formulate a middle view between factions but no, he always comes up with a set of strong ideas of his own. It's just that he doesn't want to be charged with steering an argument because he happens to be board chairman.

OR THERE'S Frank Greenwood, the elementary district's superintendent, who must maintain the thesis that the soft-spoken word is the most effective word for we've really had to lean forward with bended ear at some board meetings.

Soft spoken or not, however, he was outspoken on a recent teacher resignation case and a subsequent blast at the district by the teacher and even went so far as to gently chide some of his bosses, the trustees, for running for office other than school trustee.

Then, too, there's Larry Ross of the South San Francisco police department who has been a reliable news source for our department investigations and activities. Larry is a beating enthusiast, having acquired his first runabout this year, and when he found out we were in the same boat (sorry, we had to get in one last pun), he became a friend as well as a news source.

First thing he told us when we told him of the new venture ahead was "Well, I hope the new man has a boat."

AND WHILE we're speaking of "our finest," we'd be remiss in not mentioning Daly City's Sgt. Tom Culley, now on days but more recently on the graveyard (midnight to 8) shift.

Tom would be full of gab at 7:30 a.m. when he was about ready to go off duty and we'd be still muttering about getting up so early when we arrived at police headquarters at the same hour.

But Tom never pressed the gab — instead he doled it out in just the right portion — and before we knew it, he had us hooked on a good police beat story that had happened overnight and that, save for his gift of memory and curiosity, would have gone as just another routine entry in the police log.

And then, too, there's Paul Hupf, attorney for Daly City, who happens to be a fellow native of Buffalo and with whom we were going to sit down and have a long talk about Buffalo over lunch some day but that day just never seemed to be handy. One of these days though, Paul, Buffalo WILL be reminisced about.

We'd like to go on but the exigencies of newspaper space say we can't.

You knew, for most people, saying goodbye isn't easy. Well, we'll readily confess that we fall into the "most people" category. Rather than goodbye, then, we'd just like to say:

See y'all around sometime. Soon, we hope.

Memory Stores 'Good Things'

Samuel Chandler

THE SUDDEN DEATH of the husband of a colleague recalls to mind the lines of a poem by Thomas Campbell.

"That's hallowed ground where, mourned and missed
The lips repose our love has kissed;
But where's their memories' mansion?
Is't

Yon churchyard's bowers?
No! In ourselves their souls exist,
A part of ours."

This is a thought as old as mankind. Through the ages millions have learned to look into their memories for a balm for the wounds that death makes. Fortunately, poets and singers have described those things in memory's mansion which brings the most comfort.

Consider the lines that P. A. Christenson spoke to the widow of a friend. The wounds that death makes are the wounds of love. They are of necessity as deep and as enduring as love itself. . . . Great happiness springs only from great love, and in great love always repose the fertile seeds of great sorrow. This is one of the inescapable paradoxes of human life. . . . But the healing touch of time leaves only an abiding sweetness to guide, comfort, and inspire in the years ahead."

LOVE, THEN, lives in memory's mansion. So does the good that one has done in life. This is a thought that comforted Euripides of Ancient Greece. "When good men die," he wrote, "their goodness does not perish; but lives though they are gone. As for the bad, all that dies and is buried with them."

In a time closer to our own, the poet Joaquin Miller caught the same thought and wrote that there is "honor and glory forever more to the good man gone to rest."

Good times live in memory's mansion. So do homes and cities; smiles and laughter — all that was pleasant and sweet.

Shakespeare wrote in one of his most lovely plays, "Much Ado About Nothing":

"The idea of her life shall sweetly creep
Into his study of imagination,
And every lovely organ of her life
"Shall come apparelled in more precious habit,
More moving — delicate and full of life,
Into the eye and prospect of his soul."

A COLLECTION of poetry and prose that augments the memory with thoughts of comfort and solace may be found in James Dalton Morrison's "Masterpieces of Religious Verse." The selection known as Book VII has been widely used by ministers and many others.

Another source is the famous "Home Book of Verse." Most of the selections referring to memories' mansion are found in Part VI, "Poems of Sentiment and Reflection," and Part VII, "Poems of Sorrow, Death and Immortality."

Each selection was chosen by the compiler, Burton Stevenson, because it contained "something that seems to ring true."

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

GREETINGS good cooks and gentle readers, wondering what kind of cake went under the caramel fudge frosting that appeared in last week's column? Well, wonder no more for herein I will disclose the answer to that question.

The cake I had in mind was this delicious blackberry cake that is as easy to make as any I've made. Plus that it seems to be foolproof for the last time I made it my daughter did half the mixing, then I took over and finished it off. And two cooks couldn't spoil this broth:

The reason I suggested it was to use up the rest of the buttermilk which you purchased to make the fried chicken. Most of us buy buttermilk for special recipes and then let it stand until it spoils because we can't think of what to do with the rest. Don't let that happen to you this time. Make this rich and delicious cake and top it with that caramel frosting and you'll have a treat that's hard to beat.

BLACKBERRY CAKE

- 3 1 stick margarine or 1/2 cup shortening
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup blackberry preserves
- 3 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 teas. soda
- 2 cups buttermilk
- 2 Tbsp. cocoa
- 2 teas. cinnamon
- 1 teas. nutmeg
- 1 teas. cloves
- 1/2 teas. allspice

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and blackberry preserves. (Add two tablespoons of flour to the preserves to keep the berries from sinking to the bottom of the pan.)

Sift flour, cinnamon, cocoa, nutmeg, cloves and allspice together. Add the soda to the buttermilk. Blend the sifted dry ingredients and the buttermilk and soda alternately into the creamed mixture. Do not use electric mixer for this part of the mixing. Mix well and pour into two greased and floured 9-inch pans. Use deep pans as this makes a large cake.

Bake in 325-degree oven about 40 minutes or until the cake springs back when pressed lightly with your finger.

Frost with a caramel fudge frosting. Now you know why the column ended with a frosting, it was supposed to go on this cake.

NEW WAYS to serve vegetables are always nice to find and this recipe for zucchini may be just the thing you've been looking for today.

ZUCCHINI FRITTATA

- 6 small zucchini
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
- 1 Tbsp. butter or margarine
- 1 Tbsp. bacon drippings
- 4 eggs
- 1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese
- 1 teas. salt
- 1/2 teas. pepper

Chop zucchini fine. Saute the zucchini, garlic, and parsley in melted butter and bacon drippings for five minutes. Beat eggs slightly, add cheese, salt and pepper. Stir into the vegetable mixture. Turn into a buttered 10-inch round baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350-degrees) for 30 minutes or until set. Cut in wedges. Serves six.

There's an advertisement that comes over the radio quite frequently that tells us that we can fly to New Orleans the quick way, the easy way, the inexpensive way. Unfortunately for the people who pay for the advertisement, I can't remember which airline offers this wonderful trip. But I can top it. You can have New Orleans cuisine for the price of four lamb chops, plus a few other ingredients. How's that for an offer?

LAMB CHOPS NEW ORLEANS

- 4 lamb shoulder chops, one inch thick
- 1 1/2 cups tomato juice
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/4 cup chopped onion

Brown chops in hot lard or other fat until golden brown. Season with salt and pepper. Add tomato juice, green pepper and onion. Cover and simmer thirty minutes or until tender. Thicken and season liquid to serve over rice.

Thieves Take Barbells And Ice Cream

Thieves broke into two schools in San Bruno over the Memorial Day weekend and stole body-building equipment and ice cream bars, police said. Officials of Capuchino High School at 900 Hacienda Drive said body-building equipment, including barbells and weights, was stolen from lockers and the school gymnasium.

At El Crystal School at 201 Balboa Way, thieves took ice cream bars from a refrigerator in the school kitchen.

Investigators said the thieves went about their work in a "very neat" way. Nothing else was missing.

Garbage Bin Trip Averts Major Fire

Pacific firemen said that a major blaze probably was averted May 31 when a tenant of the Del Mar Apartments at 420 Norfolk Place took an opportune moment to empty his garbage.

William R. Prolistfield pulled open a rear area trash bin beneath the apartments and found the large container flaming.

Boards in the closet-type trash area were scorched, indicating, the firemen said, that had the fire gone undiscovered for much longer the fire could have extended and caused considerable damage.

Awards Won By D.C. Girl

Among the 69 graduates receiving baccalaureate degrees at College of Notre Dame, Belmont, commencement exercises on last Saturday was Miss Rhina Alvarenga, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fabio Alvarenga of Daly City.

Rhina was presented with two awards at the annual awards dinner on last Thursday, the Catholic Business Education Award and the Wall Street Journal Student Achievement Award.

She graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration. The Most Reverend Joseph T. McGucken, archbishop of San Francisco, conferred the degrees.

Church School Youths Named

Two youths from Bethlehem Lutheran Church (Fairmount) have been chosen to attend a leadership training school in Thousand Oaks.

They are Donna Doan, 2801 Berkshire, San Bruno; and Jeanne Thorson, 142 Beachview, Pacifica.

They will join those from five western states in a week of intensive training in churchman-ship. The school is held off the campus of California Lutheran College from June 19-25.

The Rev. George Johnson, pastor of Bethlehem, will be on the faculty of this school, teaching the Bible studies daily.

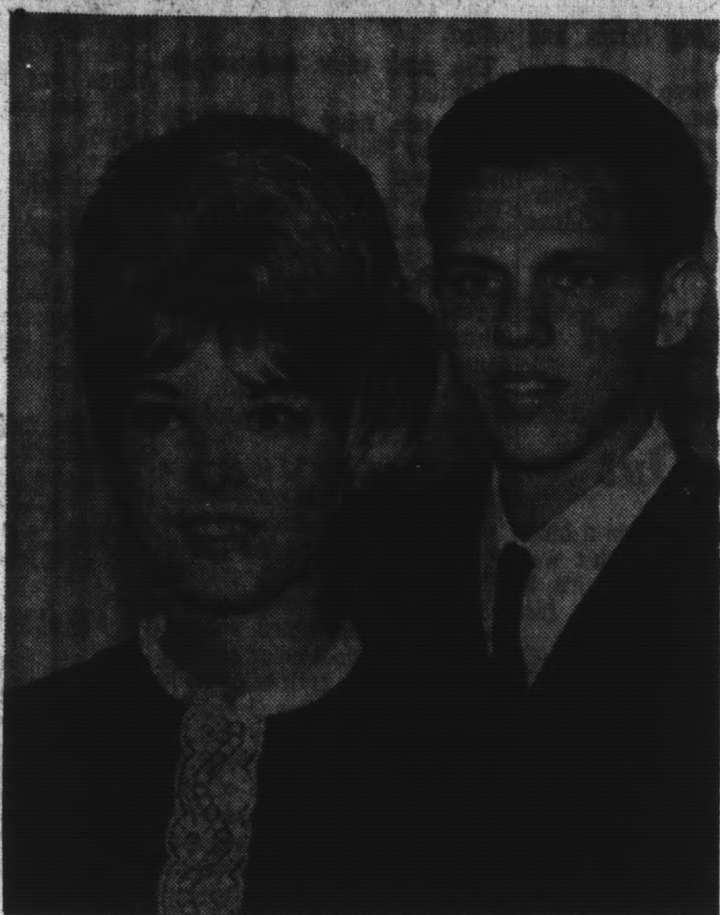

The annual church picnic for Bethlehem Lutheran will be held on June 19 at the San Bruno Park.

Wedding Bells to Ring

SUSANN BERNARD AND WILLIAM DOLLOSSO
(Jesse Gill Photo)

Continuing a 'Custom' Miss D.C. of '65 to Marry July 16

WHEN SUSANN Marie Bernard of Daly City steps to the Altar of All Hallows Catholic Church in San Francisco next month, she will be continuing a sort of custom that is becoming a tradition—matrimony for the girls who become Miss Daly City.

Miss Bernard was Miss Daly City of 1965 and ended her reign only two weeks ago when she placed the diadem upon Vivian Rieger, the new Miss Daly City.

Since the Miss Daly City contest began 12 years ago, six of the beauty queens have married, two now engaged, two are keeping mum and the status of two others could not be determined.

THE DATE when Miss Bernard will follow in some of the footsteps of her predecessors is July 17.

She will marry William Edward Dollosso of San Francisco. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dollosso of the same city.

Miss Bernard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell R. Bernard of 4229 Callan Boulevard in the new Serramonte subdivision.

The couple announced their engagement last Christmas eve but their plans were not generally known until Miss Bernard, in her role of Miss Daly City, mentioned the forthcoming trip to the altar at a freeway opening ceremony in Daly City in April.

MISS BERNARD is a graduate of Westmoor High School and is attending the College of San Mateo. Her fiancé is a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School in San Francisco.

For the wedding, the maid of honor will be Lyndae Morthy. Bridesmaids will include Becky Curto, Joyce Dollosso and Peni Lemon. Arthur Dollosso, brother of the groom-to-be, will be the best man.

Ushers will include Albert Gonzales, Anthony Marsala, and Martin Navello. Roseann Dollosso will be the flower girl.

Man Robbed Of Wallet

Gene Tennison, 48, of 149 Third Street, San Francisco, was accosted and robbed of his wallet in front of 7283 Mission Street, Daly City, early last Wednesday.

But, a wallet and miscellaneous papers were all a man in his mid-twenties got at gunpoint at 2:18 a.m.

The bandit, who fled in a car, likely was disappointed.

There was no money.

State Okays Plan Grant

The State Planning Advisory Committee has approved Daly City's application for a federal grant of $69,440 to help finance the city's General Plan.

Development costs for the plan will total $104,166.

Approval followed a meeting in Sacramento, at which the city plan was presented by City Manager Edward Frank and Planner Edward Lawson.

The Daly City application is now in the hands of the State Office of Planning, for the first of what will probably be several months of processing and review by state and federal agencies.

Twelve Seek Title of Miss San Bruno

With one week to go before the application deadline, the Millbrae-San Bruno Junior Chamber of Commerce reported that the list of contestants for its Miss San Bruno Pageant has grown to twelve.

The new Miss San Bruno will be chosen at a dinner June 25 at the Hilton Inn. The public is invited to the pageant, which will include a fashion show.

Master of ceremonies will be radio personality Jeff Carter.

The dozen contestants are Sandi Ernst, Cathy Mitchell, Nancy Koering, Sheila Robinson, Nanette May, Sheila Ryan, Dorothy McCollian, Kathy Baldassari and Jeanne Kozkowski, all Crestmoor High School students, and Joann Aguilar, Linda Davis and Linda Clayton, who attend Capuchino High School.

Entry blanks may be obtained by writing the Jaycees at Box 205, San Bruno, or by calling Alan Vincent, 349-3775, or John Renesch, 692-2910. Deadline is June 15.

Tickets for the dinner and judging are available from Bob Highsmith, at 583-2732.

Council Will Contemplate 2 Committees

Establishment of committees to study development of a civic center and the possibility of combining the police and fire departments will be discussed by the Pacifica City Council tonight.

Both committees have been recommended by City Manager Karl Baldwin.

The Civic Center Study Committee would make a thorough study and investigation of the city's needs, and prepare plans to fill them.

The Police-Fire Study Committee would investigate possibilities ranging from complete combination of the two departments, such as is now the case in Foster City and Sunnyvale on the Peninsula, to separate departments with possible joint use of facilities, communications and other services.

Ribera Named Principal For Jeff High School

(Continued From Page 1) year under a contract between the college and the district. Nissen has served 10 of his 18 years in education with the Jefferson district.

Ribera, who will receive no additional pay in his transfer from Oceana to Jefferson, has been in the Jefferson High district since 1949.

He has been Oceana principal since it opened four years ago.

Previously, he had been assistant principal and dean of boys at Terra Nova, and prior to that a social science teacher and department head at Westmoor High School, Daly City.

The vacancy was created by the death of long-time Principal John Mongon last April.

Mongon had been principal of Jefferson High School 11 years when he died on April 12. He had joined the district in 1938 as a social studies teacher at Jefferson, later becoming dean of boys before stepping into the principal's role.

Watt has been in the district since 1955, and has been dean of boys, summer school principal and assistant principal in administration and instruction. He started as a business education teacher and part-time counselor.

Gonella started with the district in 1957 at Westmoor, and has been a social science and physical education teacher, and dean of boys at Terra Nova.

Martin is a former social science teacher, who later became assistant principal of Jefferson High before moving into the district offices as a business assistant.

Daly City: Two Narcotics Raids in 3 Days Nets Four

Oldham has since been transferred to the San Mateo

County jail. Miss Mogan is free on bail.

Police became suspicious when the younger sister was stopped for a minor traffic infraction and, they said, gave evasive answers. She was followed to the motel, which was staked out.

The items taken from the trio included dozens of beakers and flasks, glass tubing, rubber gloves, and other equipment; a dozen bottles of chemicals were also recovered, as well as bottles of distilled water and other substances.

"During 1966-67 the city would receive federal grant reimbursement of $22,865.

"Net cash cost to the city would be $1,395. Total labor cost to the city would be $14,770.

"The value of the construction work completed would be $45,730.

"Therefore, a net outlay in cash and labor totaling $16,165 would accomplish construction in the amount of $45,730."

If the council gives final approval, Baldwin said, next year's program would result in even more impressive figures: $121,482 in park improvements at a city cost of $19,561 worth of labor.

The anticipated federal grant, he said, would actually exceed the amount of cash the city would spend.

The council, in authorizing the application for an urban beautification grant for 1966-67, noted that city funds will not actually be committed until the budget is made final.

Members also pointed out that most of the improvements made under the program this year the city is already committed to make.

The bulk of the work will be done in Fairmont. Grading, land development, park design, and turfing of Fairmont School's playground will cost about $31,200.

Other beautification projects, including improvements at the entrance to Westview, around the City Hall and corporation yard, the Pacifica Manor center strip, reforestation of the Vallemar area and planting of street trees.

Next year's program, if the city appropriates its share of the funds, would provide $45,000 in improvements for Fairmont and Fairmont West parks, with the remaining $76,492 distributed among most of the city's older areas.

In answer to a charge that the city is spending all its park money in Fairmont, councilmen retorted that the city is obligated by agreements with the subdivision to do the work, and the federal grant program will actually free city funds for improvements elsewhere.

While the 1966-67 program is not yet final, last night's action authorizing the extra manpower means that the 1965-66 work will be finished this summer.

To be hired are two full-time temporary maintenance men, at a salary of $455 per month; one half-time temporary maintenance man, at a salary of $455 per month; one half-time temporary maintenance man, at $250 an hour; and four high school students, at $1.75 an hour for a 40-hour week.

All will be employed for approximately ten weeks, said Baldwin, at the end of which the work is scheduled for completion.

Foot-Paddling Thief Takes Rubber Boat

Mrs. Billie Parrott, 2536 Fleetwood Drive, San Bruno, has reported a theft to police.

Missing: One seven-man Navy surplus inflatable black rubber boat, with double bottom and removable scupper, valued at $50.

The boat was taken from the Parrott driveway. All, however, is not lost. The thieves left the cars.

S.S.F. Council Okays New Procedure

(Continued From Page 1) council will be able to regulate charges the cable TV firm may make to customers. Councilmen are also given alternate methods of charging the franchise holder for permission to operate in South San Francisco.

One firm will probably be granted the right to provide cable television service to householders in the city.

Another ordinance now awaiting final council approval alters South San Francisco's subdivision regulations, to make dedication of park or recreation land or payment in lieu of such land a prerequisite to acceptance of new subdivisions.

Under the law, given tentative approval by councilmen, subdivisions must provide land for these used before their developments would be approved by the city.

A final ordinance approved by the council at first reading approves dedication of a section of Westborough Boulevard as a county highway, to facilitate financing of the road construction project.

Youth, 16, Grabs Purse—No Money

A 16-year-old purse-snatching suspect lingered too long in the area in which Allis Toyce Gregory, 52, of 961 Hanover Street, had her handbag wrested from her, and two Daly City police officers outtraced him at 10:37 last Thursday.

The suspect failed to outrun Sgt. Edward Gusman and Patrolman Dalles Webber after witnesses to the purse snatching at Evergreen and Mission Streets at 10:06 p.m. called police.

The youth was taken to the San Francisco Youth Guidance Center, was caught in the 6000 block of Mission Street, less than a block away from the crime.

Two Teens Win Awards

About 500 persons attended Shevuos Services at Temple Judea May 24.

The Confirmation class presented the temple with two large Italian Cypress trees. Geoffrey Becker was given the board of trustees' award for best student of the year for scholarship leadership, and service.

Carol Friedman was given the Brotherhood's Samuel I. Hafner award for the best student over the past 10 years.

RADIO STOLEN

Antonio DiSalvo of 1055 San Mateo Avenue, San Bruno, reported to police last week that a citizen's band radio had been stolen from his car, parked in front of his home.

Emmelina Rasmussen, of 443 Vista Grande Avenue, Daly City, reported to police May 31 the theft of $120 in cash from her home, sometime between May 16 and May 30.

Ward Lease Signed For Serramonte

A second department store has signed a lease for the huge regional shopping center at Serramonte in the North County.

Montgomery Ward and Company announced it signed for a 183,000-square-foot store at Serramonte Center. The store will be the seventh of the company's full-line department stores in the Bay Area and will employ 400 persons. In addition, an auto service center will be built on the site.

Fred H. Veach, Ward's western region vice president, and William F. Morton, vice president of Suburban Realty Company, signed the lease agreement.

Previously, Macy's signed a lease for a department store in the 72-acre, $20 million, shopping center.

Morton said construction of the center is assured. Grading is almost complete and actual building construction is to start in the spring of 1967 with the completion target mid-1968, he said.

Lease negotiations have been completed with 20 other major tenants, Morton said, although the leases have not been signed yet.

He said the entire center will be constructed at one time, as it is an enclosed-mall type with everything under one roof. Suburban Realty, developer of the center, is owned jointly by Crocker Land Company and the Gellert organizations.

Coast Boy Injured In Accident

Six-year-old Scott Buskey of Pacifica is in Mary's Help Hospital with fractures of both legs and possible head injuries, after his bicycle was struck by a car in Pacifica Monday.

Pacificia police said the youngster, of 172 Calaveras Street, made a wide circle at the intersection of Reina Del Mar and Berendos Avenues in front of a car driven by Louis Oliver Siegle, 18, of 260 Berendos.

Siegle had just turned onto Berendos from Reina Del Mar when the accident occurred. Young Buskey was reported to be in "good" condition at Mary's Help Hospital.

Coast Girl Wins Award

Sarah V. Williams is one of four recipients to receive a health career award from the local chapter of the March of Dimes, it was announced by Paul V. Claudon, chairman of the Selection Committee.

Sgt. Samuel E. Dillard Jr. and Mrs. Dillard are Sarah's guardians and live at 446 Lewis Lane, Pacifica.

Sgt. Dillard is with the U.S. Army and at present is stationed at Fort Mason in San Francisco.

Sarah is a senior at Oceana High School, Pacifica, and plans to enroll at San Francisco State College in the fall to get her baccalaureate degree in nursing.

Before attending Oceana High School, she attended Kubasaki High School in Okinawa, where she was a member of the Future Nurses Club. She was also selected to work as a White Cap during the summer at the Army Hospital, along with a certificate of accomplishment given by the head nurse.

This is the fourth year that these awards have been given by the local March of Dimes Chapter to students entering the field of nursing, physical therapy or occupational therapy.

Chinese Junk at Oyster Point

China Camp, where she spent the next 17 months virtually abandoned.

The Six Companies, searching for a new owner for the craft, twice approached the San Francisco Maritime Museum. The second time, the Museum's board of directors reluctantly accepted the junk, along with the stipulation that she be preserved.

She was towed to Alameda's Moore Shipyard near the end of 1956, and there she remained untouched until 1960, when a small group of volunteers, headed by Lemke and Dring, began her restoration.

"When I first saw her in September 1960," said Rusk, "she was in such terrible shape that I couldn't even take any measurements. We put in a year repairing her bottom."

"It took more than 600 pounds of cement to fill the seams in her bottom below the water line," Dring said.

When the junk was once more watertight, she was floated across the Oakland Estuary to the Oakland Dock and Warehouse Company, where she remained until September 1963.

With the move to Oakland came a change in ownership; the Maritime Museum, after clearing away a tangle of red tape in the junk's registry, transferred title to the volunteers who had been working on the vessel.

They—and their families—have had few free weekends since.

The routine begins early Saturday mornings at Dring's South San Francisco home, where he loads his microbus with tools, sandwiches, coffee, his wife and as many of his three sons as he can round up.

The Saturday and Sunday trips have been going on for several years now—first to Oakland, and then to Sausalito, where the Sung Shio Li became a familiar sight to patrons of Zack's restaurant, as she lay in a mooring provided by the late John Lord King and his son, John Jr.

Although the Kings provided the mooring free, there was one drawback: everything had to be hauled to the junk in a dinghy.

The new berth at Oyster

Point eliminates the dinghy, as well as the long drives and bridge tolls.

For the first time in her 75 or so years, the Sung Shio Li lies in a harbor completely protected by breakwaters, with locked gates at the head of each pier, floodlights and a full-time watchman.

Shots Fired As Tenant Moves Out

An argument between a landlord and a tenant who was moving out led to gunfire in Daly City about 10:30 p.m. last Wednesday.

The landlord, Darnley White, 68, of 106 San Diego Avenue, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

The tenant, Thomas Raymond, about 25 years old, charged that White had fired a shot at him with a .32-caliber revolver.

White, however, told police he had fired the gun to scare Raymond. The bullet lodged in an upper stairway sideboard.

Under questioning, White told investigators he had assisted Raymond in moving his things about 6:30 p.m.

Raymond then left for his new residence in San Francisco and when he returned, an argument erupted over belongings left in Raymond's room, police said.

The smugglers would be appalled.

The junk crew, however, is delighted.

For one thing, the $800,000 Oyster Point Marina offers modern restroom facilities, complete with showers, for the use of boat owners.

The city has also provided a public beach, and fuel facilities. A restaurant is planned for the future, according to Superintendent Fagundes.

Just three years old, the marina has a capacity of 286 boats.

The Sung Shio Li joins some 210 craft already in residence.

Sightseers will find her easy to spot, moored at the end of the easternmost pier, resplendent in bright hues of yellow, red and green, which approximate her original color scheme.

On the cabin, built of cedar as is the junk's decking, are the Chinese characters for her name; other writing over the cabin door means, in translation, "One family, four seas."

After they complete the restoration, which Rusk estimates is now about 65 per cent finished, the owners hope to see some of those four seas, and the other three of which the 19th century Chinese were apparently unaware.

The first voyage, maintains Dring, will be to Alviso.

"I'd like to point out," he added, "that none of us are professionals."

For amateurs, they have brought the Sung Shio Li a long way.

One of the biggest jobs remaining is stepping—setting in place—the mizzenmast, which was missing when the junk arrived. A replacement is ready.

The mainmast, of ironwood, is original. The foremast was replaced in Alameda.

A major task is replacement of the long, tapering square nails, which are rusted and make repairs difficult.

Many months of work will pass before the Sung Shio Li sails.

In the meantime, South San Francisco's new marina has a new and colorful tenant.

Pacifica Fire Quenched By Teen-ager

A closet fire started by a five-year-old girl playing was quickly doused by the girl's 17-year-old brother last week.

The quick action of Mark Elayda, who threw pails of water on the fire, confined damage only to the contents of the closets.

Mark had been summoned from downstairs by his mother, Mrs. Norma Elayda, who had suddenly awakened and discovered the fire—said by firemen to have started when young Gloria Elayda was playing with matches in her own upstairs room shortly before 1:50 p.m.

"It could have been real bad," a Pacifica fireman noted.

Mathematics Chapter For Westmoor Hi

Westmoor High School received national recognition this week when it was awarded a charter in Mu Alpha Theta, international high school and junior college mathematics club.

The announcement was made by Dr. Harold V. Huneke, national secretary-treasurer, who is an associate professor of mathematics at the University of Oklahoma where the national office is located.

Only those schools with excellent mathematics programs can earn membership in the club, since all courses in math and the qualifications of the mathematics faculty and students are examined in detail by the club's governors and officers.

To be eligible for membership, a student must have completed with distinction at least four semesters of college preparatory mathematics and be enrolled in the fifth semester. He also must have an overall grade of at least a "B" in all of his high school work.

"Membership in Mu Alpha Theta is the highest honor possible for a high school or junior college student of mathematics," Huneke said. "Club activities consist of work in areas of mathematics not usually covered in the classroom."

Westmoor High School students who have earned a charter membership in the club include Gregory F. McHugh, Brad J. Hansen, Dennis E. James, Eloise Gordon, Susan K. Walsh, Eleanor J. Werner, Helen Lichtman and Richard F. Laherty.

S.S.F. Girl 4-H Revue Alternate

Kaverne Obsert, 16, of South San Francisco, was selected as an alternate San Mateo County 4-H Dress Revue representative to the statewide contest in August at the University of California at Davis.

Runnerup to Deryl Pratty, 17, of Portola Valley, Miss Obsert's outfit was an A-line dress of gold wool.

A high school junior, she is in her seventh year of 4-H.

Theme of the fashion show, at Hillsdale High School, San Mateo, was "Alice in the Wonderland of Fashions."

Blue ribbon winners at the revue included: Pacifica Club: Linda Carlton. La Honda Club: Sharon Kotoff, Michele LeComte, Lori Swanson, Pam Williams.

San Bruno Club: Elizabeth Davis.

Jr. Team Clubs Set 3 Dances

The Daly City Recreation Department's Junior Teen Clubs wind up their school-year activities this weekend, with three dances scheduled. The Roof Raisers have scheduled a masquerade dance on Friday at Pauline Brown School as their "opening of the summer" activity.

The dance will run from 7 to 9 p.m.; members paying 25 cents and guests 50 cents.

The Telstars meet at the Westmoor Park Clubhouse on Friday evening from 7-9 p.m. for their end-of-the-school year celebration. Dress for the dance is school clothes and cost is 25 cents for club members, 50 cents for guests.

Westlake Park is the site of the Know Names dance, also to be held this Friday from 7-9:30 p.m. Live music will be featured. Cost is 25 cents to members of the Know Names, 50 cents for their guests.

The teen club summer program will feature dances and special activities to be held on Tuesday evenings, with one city-wide event each month. Further information on the summer program can be obtained by calling Peter Vallarino, recreation supervisor.

Youth Group Elects Staff

Newly elected officers of Judea Organization of Youth were named at the group's last meeting in May. The six who will assume office in September, 1966, are as follows: President (elected) — David Pava; Vice President — David Bauer; Recording Secretary — Victoria Desman; Corresponding Secretary — Rosalind Coleman; Treasurer — Joel Chassy; Parliamentarian — Ralph Friedman.

HOME RANSACKED
San Bruno police reported last week that the home of Thomas O. Wren at 52 Bayshore Circle, San Bruno, had been ransacked. The owner was reported to be in Texas.

Terra Nova Topics

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

"PRODUCT X" has hit the market! It has been manufactured by Stimax, Terra Nova's campus company, and is now on sale to the public.

The sale is the climax of a unique class activity initiated at TN this year by Steve Scheppeler, a student teacher at the time, under industrial arts department head Norman Sanden. Scheppeler's advanced woodshop class formed Stimax, skilled technicians in making an "X."

The company later incorporated two of Mrs. Nelda Nocita's business classes, which comprise the Stimax advertising agency and secretarial staff. Stimax also negotiated a contract with a group of journalism students working independently as a press agency.

THROUGHOUT the year, the company has gone through all the stages of planning, preparation, and production to form an operating company.

The search for "Product X" began with its research and development, in which each boy in the company thought of and made an item which he felt was a good potential Product X.

From there the products went through an intensive market analysis study to determine which had the best market potential. The study, which involved the polling and tabulating of 500 questionnaires to the public, was conducted by the advertising agency with the help of Mrs. Nocita's other merchandising class.

WHILE the study was conducted, the company was contracting private woodworking jobs around the community to earn capital for production of X, the secretarial staff was providing its services, and the press agency was handling the company's newspaper publicity and putting out a monthly company paper, the Stimax Informer.

The study determined the real Product X, which then went into mass production and packaging and, last week, into sales.

Easy Pineapple Cheesecake Torte

Take one delicious cake, several slightly hungry, appreciative guests and the scene is set for a party. Today's foods are designed to help you get in and out of your kitchen in a hurry, so that you can have frequent "cake-inspired" parties with a minimum of fuss. This moist and tender torte can be made in jig time thanks to a one-bowl mixing method developed for the new instant blending flour. The filling and topping are just as simple to construct for they're made with canned pineapple pie filling and a fluffy cream cheese mixture you'll find quite tasty. A taste of this easy-to-create cake will assure you how guest-worthy it is for party service.

Pineapple Cheesecake Torte
 1/2 cup shortening 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 cup milk 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup plus 1 tablespoon sugar 2 eggs
 1 1/2 cups instant blending flour 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 1/4 cup diced toasted pecans

Oven: 350° Yield: 9 servings

Grease heavily and flour bottom of 8-inch square or 9-inch round pan. Melt shortening in prepared pan. Remove from heat. Add milk, 1/2 cup sugar, flour, baking powder, salt, eggs and vanilla extract. Beat with fork until smooth and creamy, about 2 minutes. Sprinkle with pecans and 1 tablespoon sugar. Bake at 350° for 30 to 35 minutes. Cool 20 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool completely. Split and fill. Refrigerate.

Pineapple Cheesecake Torte Filling: Cream 8-oz. package cream cheese until light. Gradually add 15-oz. can sweetened condensed milk; beat well. Blend in 1/2 cup lemon juice. Chill; spread 3/4 mixture on bottom layer. Top with 1 cup canned pineapple pie filling. Place top cake layer on pineapple; garnish with remainder of pie filling and cheese mixture.

Proof of Pudding Is Brownie Dessert

Proof of the pudding is in the eating; and Brownie Dessert lives up proudly to the old saying. Prepare this elegant but simple dessert quickly with the aid of semi-sweet chocolate morsels and condensed milk. It's so easy to make—and bake into a puffy chocolate dessert. For a final touch of luscious simplicity, crown each warm serving with a scoop of ice cream.

Brownie Pudding

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels 1 teaspoon vanilla
 2 eggs 1 tablespoon flour
 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk 1/2 teaspoon salt

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Let cool 5 minutes. Beat together eggs, condensed milk and vanilla. Combine flour, baking powder and salt; stir into egg mixture. Add melted semi-sweet chocolate morsels; mix well. Turn into a buttered 9-inch pie plate. Bake in a 325° F. oven 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm or cool with whipped cream or ice cream. YIELD: 6 servings.

SPRINGTIME TREAT — Fresh strawberries and pink or red rhubarb make a delicious one-crust pie —especially when the pastry is rich and flaky.

Strawberries Join Rhubarb in a Pie

It's a lovely time of year when both fresh strawberries and stalks of pink or red rhubarb are here. You can taste sunny days in the combination.

The strawberries and rhubarb will make a delicious pie. Usually we put the fruit in a rich, flaky pastry shell and cover the top with lattice-design strips of the pastry. But this year we tried something different, and the recipe follows. The pastry shell is there, but the topping is a sweet, crumbly mixture of butter, brown sugar and cinnamon. All to the good, our tasters said, as they gobbled up wedges of the pie with scoops of vanilla ice cream.

Don't expect a firmer-than-firm filling for this pie, even if you allow it to stand until cold before cutting and serving—as we suggest. The filling may be a little runny. But who cares? Old-fashioned eaters, who knew a good fresh fruit pie when they tasted one, believed this runniness made the pie delectable. We hope you agree with them that a library-paste type of filling should never be used in something delicate and spring-like as a fresh strawberry and rhubarb pie.

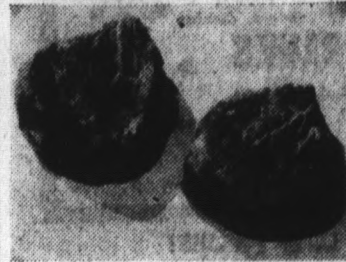

In a mixing bowl, thoroughly stir together the granulated sugar and 1/2 cup of the flour; add strawberries and rhubarb and toss together; let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes.

Meanwhile, blend the butter, brown sugar and cinnamon; work in the remaining 1/2 cup flour to make a crumbly mixture.

Turn the strawberry and rhubarb mixture into the pastry-lined pie plate. Sprinkle the fruit with the lemon juice, then with the crumbly flour mixture.

Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven for one hour. Place pie on wire rack; allow to stand at room temperature until cold so filling can "set."

Note: We baked this pie in the middle rack of our range for 40 minutes then we covered the top of the pie with foil and finished the baking on the rack just below the middle rack for the last 20 minutes. This method produced a well-browned crust.

Ground Lamb Blends Well With Carrots

Take a pound and a half of ground lamb and mix with grated carrots and a few other ingredients. Result? Some meat patties which offer about as economical a main dish as can be found.

This is a quick dish to prepare on days when there's a rush. Not only is the mixing time quick, but so is broiling time with six to eight minutes on each side.

Lamb Thrifties
1 1/2 pounds ground lamb
1 cup grated raw carrots
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons grated onion
Combine all ingredients and shape into patties. Set regulator for broiling. Place patties on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and rack so the tops of the patties are 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Broil 5 to 7 minutes on each side. 6 servings.

Reno-Tahoe Guest Club New Package Deal

DRIVING TO LAKE TAHOE OR RENO? The new Reno-Tahoe Guest Club is the modern way to stretch your vacation or weekend fun dollar. For $9.95 you receive a book of 65 coupons worth over $100 in cash, free gaming plays, cocktails, room discounts, dining and significant reductions in the cost of golf, bowling, boating and other recreations. Reno-Tahoe Guest Club actually gives you more than your purchase price in cash and free plays (over $20 worth), plus 20 free cocktails at leading casinos. Most of the benefits are valid on weekends and 365 days a year. However, there are a few exceptions during the summer months. Free breakfasts, two-for-one dinners and out-right dinner discounts, plus car-rental, mark-downs are included. The regular $15 membership book now has a $9.95 charter membership price. It is good for a full year. Phone YU 1-2700 for information or mail your $9.95 to Seven Eleven, C/O 606 Mission St., San Francisco.

NICK GUST, Pacifica Councilman and restaurateur, passes the word along to your Bright Lighter that business over last weekend at his surfside Turtle and Nick's restaurants was at an all-time high. And that means for breakfast, luncheon and dinner. Nick's is one of the main fun and food spots on the coast line. So if you're planning a special party or banquet, there's plenty of space and atmosphere for any occasion. . . . For glamorous dining, enjoy the flaming entrees and desserts for which L'Auberge in Atherton is famous. Waiter captain Karl Handwerk and his crack crop of Continental waiters will please your guests with table-side preparations of Pepper Steak Flambe, Cherries Jubilee or Crepes Suzette. Lights are always lowered for the dramatic occasion. . . . Guido Bianchini and Joe Selmi, one of the most successful bar and restaurant owners, combinations, have the greatest gift for discussing any subject their J and G restaurant customers pick out. If it just happens to be baseball, better order four beers in advance 'cause their understanding on the subject is extensive.

THE FRANCISCAN RESTAURANT on Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco has a wonderful definition for "Bagdad by the Bay" that goes something like this: "With her hills she is Rome, with her Bay she is Naples, with her sometimes blue sky she is Switzerland, with her fog she is London. With her cafes she is Paris, with her symphony and operas she is Vienna, with her marts of trade she is New York, but with her people, bless them, with her people she is just San Francisco." George Skaff is general manager of this George Burger owned restaurant. . . . The word is out that Hank Rubin has turned the Black Sheep in Berkeley into the same excellent type restaurant as his now-famous Pot Luck and Cruchon's. Proof of this was evidenced by the patronage of San Francisco Spring opera star Marni Nixon and academy-award-winning composer husband, Ernest Gold, of "Exodus" and "Ship of Fools" fame, who were celebrating their wedding anniversary and toasting each other with wine from Hank's bountiful cellars.

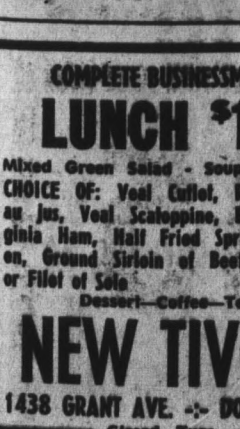

TASTE TIP: The "Special for two" Chateaubriand and Caesar Salad, followed by Baked Alaska for dessert, served at Joe and Lou's Leaning Tower in South San Francisco. Quality has no substitute at the Leaning Tower. Their most important ingredient is time, so why not call in your reservations in advance. . . . Sharla Jo Brown, the sparkling southern gal who plays your requests at the organ bar of the Heritage House in Sunnyvale, majored in music at Texas Christian University. She is adept at piano, celeste and bongo drums, and has written songs and musical scores for television. She has even appeared as a calliope soloist in the South. . . . The big wheel of fun and entertainment in downtown Las Vegas has the new magnificent 26-story Mint Hotel as its hub.

New Talent For Finocchio's

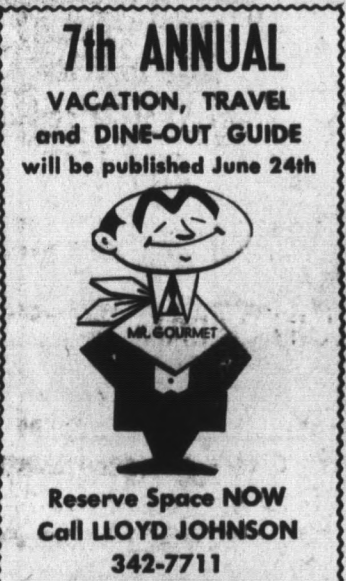

The latest bright talent to join the big cast of the Finocchio "Suntime Circus on North Beach" is an exotic dancer named Doran, who comes by his dancing talent naturally. He was an Arthur Murray dance instructor in Miami and Los Angeles for eight years, before turning entertainer. On the side, Doran is a fine commercial artist.

Sil Oliva and his lovely Mrs. Louise, enjoy the luxury of fresh air whenever they can get away from their Exposition Fish Grotto restaurant duties. Both looked the picture of health and in top handicap shape at the Bay Meadows Harness and Quarter Horse Races, last Monday afternoon.

Demie Chrisafis Joins Foreman's Staff

Cute Miss Demie Chrisafis, who used to help her Mom and Dad in their 133 B Street restaurant, has joined the Foreman's staff in San Mateo. Demie suggests you buy your Christmas gifts early. And when it comes to cameras, this little lady presents a pretty bright "picture" behind the camera counter.

Besides serving most everything in the sea at his Italian and Sea Food restaurant, Vince Licata offers a close-by market and delicatessen, where you can purchase the seafood of your choice and all kinds of delicacies for the home table. And that includes cracked crab.

New Look Due For Holiday Inn

The star-studded entertainment program during the summer of '66 at Fred and Jerry Rapp's Holiday Inn, South San Francisco, will center around the talented Gary Long Trio. For the popular hostelry itself, the inn will soon be greeting its guests with a new and delightful 1966 look. Unchanged, however, will be the many faithful employees widely known for their service and hospitality. Watch Bright Lights for future stories that will be of interest to everyone. . . .

Am long overdue for a dine out visit to the La Touraine in Burlingame. So it's table-side, next week, for one of their famed Chateaubriand Sauce Champignons, and a selection from the home made-pastry cart. Having lost five pounds, can't think of a happier way to gain it back.

Foster's Specials "Heed the Call"

If you haven't already taken advantage of Foster's all-day Monday special - "All the Buttermilk Pancakes You Can Eat", or that free apple pie with a bucket of Farm Fried Chicken, another Foster's super, then you're not treating yourself right.

Ronald Kearney whooped it up at Lew Lehr's with a dinner party when he passed the bar examination and became a full-fledged attorney.

Family Reunion For Carl Spann

Off this week with his wife to attend his sister's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary in Cleveland, Ohio, is Carl Spann, dining room manager of the elegant Scheherazade Room in Burlingame's Hyatt House. It will be a two-fold trip for Carl, as his favorite niece, whom he hasn't seen for some time, will also be getting married the following day.

You can be sure Enrico Romano, the Pacifica pizza baron, will be a ringsider at Harrah's Tahoe for the Dean Martin Show. Dean and Enrico have been long-time friends since before Mr. Martin hit the show business jackpot.

The last remaining indoor bocce alley in North Beach is located out back at the New Tivoli on Grant Avenue. Many diners stay to watch the bowlers after enjoying one of chef Primo Pichetti's delicious seven course Italian dinners.

D.C. Parents Protest Transfer of Children

A group of parents of children attending Abraham Lincoln School in Daly City have protested a plan to transfer their children to Franklin D. Roosevelt School to eliminate overcrowding next year at Abraham Lincoln.

The parents say that FDR School does not have facilities comparable to Abraham Lincoln and that insufficient transportation exists for after-school activities at FDR.

In reply, district officials emphasize that no firm decision has been made on the transfers.

A meeting among district officials and parents to discuss possible transfers will be held at FDR at 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 13.

According to District Superintendent Frank Greenwood, FDR School has eight classrooms that are empty this year. He said enrollment forecasts indicate the same number would be empty again in the 1966-67 school year.

At Abraham Lincoln, however, the forecast is for more pupils than the school has room for.

The enrollment at the school this year is 685, a figure that Principal Edward Mosconi said represented capacity. In September, 779 students are expected to enroll.

Mosconi, commenting on the transfer proposal, declared: "Whenever a problem arises involving the placement of children, the primary consideration and concern is for the welfare of the children involved."

"When faced with no alternative other than moving children, we must then select the smallest group, realizing that within any group of children moved, some will be upset."

Greenwood said the plan to transfer students involves 63 families who live west of Skyline Drive.

And he emphasized that the families "are being considered for a transfer. No decision has been made."

In a letter to Greenwood, the protesting parents have charged that FDR School has no cafeteria and "the library is in desperate need of books." They also charged that playground facilities at FDR are inadequate.

Greenwood, in reply, said that funds are in the budget for a cafeteria at FDR and that if parents felt a cafeteria was a major need, the board of trustees could be expected to fulfill the need.

Regarding playground space, the superintendent said he personally felt that FDR playgrounds "are among the best in the area."

On the library issue, Greenwood said that FDR's shelves are stocked with a "good-sized" collection of books.

He said that because of the school's small enrollment (some 300 students) and because the library is a built-in rather than tacked-on facility, the library may appear to have an insufficient number of books compared to other schools.

A school library, he explained, has a collection based upon from 12 to 15 volumes per student. He said this ratio exists at FDR.

In their letter, the parents also said that transporting their children (as at present) to school should not be an "excuse for moving them farther away."

Greenwood said students west of Skyline are given bus transportation, not because of the distance to school but because of the alternative — crossing busy Skyline Drive on foot.

Regarding transportation for after-school activities, Greenwood said the district would provide buses for FDR if the after-school program warranted them.

Visitor Rescues Neighbor

A young man visiting his mother risked his life late Saturday to dramatically rescue a neighbor asleep in his flaming oven-like home.

Brisbane fire chief Richard Siess said Ronald Wilson made his way through blinding smoke and intense heat to rescue T. W. Sollars, who was asleep in his home at 445 Sierra Point Road.

Wilson, the chief said, had smelled smoke, investigated, then entered the house and led Sollars from his bedroom through the choking smoke.

"He was more than lucky," declared Chief Siess of Sollars' fate.

"It's a miracle the smoke didn't get to him," he added, "it just wasn't his time."

Wilson was just bringing Sollars out of the house leaving behind a living room completely engulfed and a kitchen blazing hot, when firemen arrived.

Firemen themselves could not get into the house immediately.

"It was like an oven and we had to cool it down first," Chief Siess explained.

"Really, I don't know how they got through," the chief said.

Chief Siess said the fire started in a sofa in the living room, probably from a cigarette, and

Postal Savings Depositors Asked to Withdraw Funds

Daly City Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy today urged citizens who have funds on deposit in the abolished Postal Savings System to convert their holdings into United States Savings Bonds.

"Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, chairman of the Federal Savings Bonds Campaign, has appealed to the 930,000 Americans who have $285 million on deposit with the Post Office Department to convert their investments," Murphy stated.

"I join him in urging local citizens who have Postal Savings Accounts to make that change, which will be of great benefit to both themselves and our country."

Murphy said details about the procedure for conversion can be obtained from the postmaster of any Postal Savings Depository.

The Postal Savings System, in operation since January 1, 1911, was discontinued April 27, 1966, by Act of Congress. The Post Office Department presently is liquidating its accounts and on July 1, 1967, will transfer all unclaimed assets of the System to the Treasury Department.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

"Cavities"

There are millions of bacteria in your mouth. Some are quite harmful because they act on sugars and other carbohydrates to form acids. These acids dissolve the enamel of the teeth. That is the beginning of tooth decay.

Unless decay is stopped by a dentist, who removes the decayed portion of the tooth and puts in a filling, decay proceeds from the enamel into the dentin and then into the pulp. Once the pulp has been infected, it may be too late to save the tooth.

Have your dentist check your teeth and take care of any cavities that may be present.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for dental plates; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

N. County Deaths

RICHARD A FIRTH

Richard A. Firth, 32, training manager for the California State Automobile Association, died Saturday at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City after a long illness.

Firth, a native of Denver, had lived in San Mateo County for 25 years.

He is survived by his wife, Joy, of 301 Klamath Street, Brisbane, and their four children, Michael, Richard, Tammi and Lisa; also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Ruby Gregorie of Brisbane; father, Eugene Firth of San Francisco, and a brother, Eugene, of Larkspur.

Services will be conducted at 1 p.m. tomorrow by the San Bruno Funeral Home, 200 West San Bruno Ave. Interment will follow at Olivet Memorial Park.

ELIZABETH SOLLARS

Elizabeth Sollars, a native Californian who had lived in Brisbane for the past 20 years, died last week in San Mateo at the age of 84.

Mrs. Sollars is survived by her husband, Percy, of 445 Sierra Point Road, Brisbane.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 1:15 p.m. at the Nauman and Lincoln Chapel, 322 Maple Avenue, South San Francisco. Interment will follow at Golden Gate National Cemetery.

The Reverend Robert Lundy, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, will officiate.

JOSEPH T. GLOWKA

Joseph T. Glowka, a resident of 29 Hamilton Court, Pacifica, for the last two years, died May 31 at the age of 82.

A native of Poland, he was a member of the Polish-American Society of New Jersey. He was a retired machinist.

Survivors include three children, Henry Glowka of New York City; Jeanne Ely of Pacifica; Mrs. Beatrice Tenny of San Jose; a sister, Genevieve Zelaski of New Jersey; five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

His wife, Beatrice, and a son, Adam, preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held at 8 last Thursday from the Nauman and Lincoln Chapel by the Sea in Pacifica, with interment in Kenilworth, New Jersey.

ANGELO GIANOLI

Angelo Gianoli of South San Francisco, a retired steelworker, died June 1. He was 79.

A native of Italy, he lived in San Mateo County 55 years. He was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Survivors include his wife, Guiseppina; three daughters, Mrs. Frances Piecyk of Norfolk, Va., Mrs. Elvira Seldavini of San Bruno, and Mrs. Adeline Krepelke and Benedetta Gianoli, both of South San Francisco; and nine grandchildren.

Rosary was said at 8 p.m. last Friday at the Nauman and Lincoln mortuary, South San Francisco.

A requiem mass was recited on Saturday, with interment at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

IRIS LATREILLE

Iris Latreille, a former Daly City resident, died May 31 in Santa Barbara.

She was a native of San Francisco.

Survivors include her husband, Norval; a daughter, Yvonne Cecil Dowdle; and a son, Norval Barry Latreille.

Funeral services were at 8:30 a.m. at Duggan's Serra Mortuary, Daly City, and at Our Lady of Mercy Church, Westlake, where a requiem mass was said. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

SOPHIA MARCUM

Sophia Marcum, 73, died May 28 in Daly City.

A native of Corregidor, she had lived in South San Francisco 11 years.

Survivors include three sons, Vincent, Charles and Robert Marcum; two daughters, Elizabeth Hamoy and Virginia Quillopraz; and 12 grandchildren.

A requiem mass was recited from Mater Dolorosa Church, South San Francisco, yesterday. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

MARTHA AMELIA MULLER

Martha Amelia Muller, 83, died in Alameda June 1.

Survivors include a son, Erich E. Diebel of Daly City.

Funeral services were last Friday at the Lasswell and Co. Mortuary, interment following at Olivet Memorial Park, Colma.

Sermon Topic Is Revealed

"Do We Still Need to Do Business for God?" is Walter Stram's 11 a.m. message, Sunday, at the Peninsula Church of Christ (Christian) meeting in Olivet Chapel, Hillside Boulevard and F Street, Colma.

"A Better Solution Than Suicide" is to be the 6 p.m. message.

Figurines And Clothing Taken

Edgar Cox, 320 Peoria, Daly City, reported to police Sunday the theft of some $400 worth of items from his home.

Taken were numerous items of men's clothing, including two suits, and several ivory, porcelain and silver figurines.

Officers said they have the name of a suspect in the theft.

MRS. MARTHA SUGRUE, 26 Olcese Court, Daly City, models the mink stole she won in the second week of Skyline Plaza Merchants' Association Fifth Anniversary celebration. Another stole awaits a lucky lady who signs the guest register at any Skyline Plaza store. Other prizes total thousands of dollars.

A Tool Theft At Boat Shop

Nine-hundred dollars worth of hand power tools were reported missing over the weekend by Jack Brown, who with his brother operates Brown's Boat Works, 51 South Linden Avenue, South San Francisco.

Brown told officers that his foreman had discovered the theft when he opened the shop Saturday morning.

Loss of the tools, Brown said, will prevent the completion of the firm's first boat, now under construction.

S.S.F. Police Nab Pair In Wrecking Lot

South San Francisco Police arrested two boys—aged 15 and 17—Sunday afternoon, and charged them with burglarizing Valencia Auto Salvage, 155 Harbor Way.

The pair had climbed a fence and broken into the wrecking yard office, according to investigators.

Their capture followed by about three weeks the arrest of two other juveniles in the same wrecking yard.

D.C. to Hire Fifty Youths

More than 50 youngsters will be employed by the City of Daly City this summer, as the city begins its sixth year of the summer job program.

The youths will work from 20 to 40 hours a week in the library, recreation, public works and central service departments, in such jobs as library page, recreation leader and laborer.

The Daly City program, city officials are proud to point out, antedates the federal "Youth Opportunity Campaign" by several years.

The program, which has grown locally since its inception, is open to young people between 16 and 21.

Its goal, in addition to providing needed temporary employment, is to develop responsibility and training through work experience.
